COMMUNITY HIGH SCHOOL
SEAL
EAST PEORIA, ILL.

This Year At EPCHS Was Approved By Us

In honor of the teachers, Student Council members serve them an appreciation breakfast.

This year at EPCHS was approved by administration and a majority of the students. Students demonstrated positively their maturity in school activities, functions, and clubs. In helping the community, Student Council sponsored the Red Stocking Drive and Canned Food Drive. Student participation expressed their compassion for others. The Variety Show, Parade, and Dance were successful mainly because of the time and effort organizing, preparing, and perfecting spent by the students. Choir, Band, and Orchestra gave free concerts for community pleasure. Students took an active part in voting for class officers and in a mock election for state officials. Students expressed their appreciation for teachers by giving a breakfast in their honor. Learning, sharing, participating, and caring. We're proud—of this.

Students were active in collecting canned foods to distribute throughout the community.

Time and effort are ingredients that students put into Band to get approved results.

Co-operation between students and teachers is a good facet of our school.

Voting is a right that we can exercise as students and as citizens.

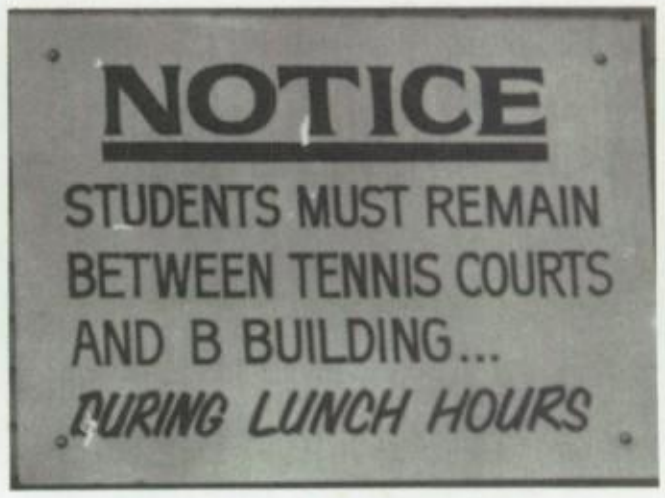
Expressions of pride beam from the faces of the Orchestra after a concert well done.

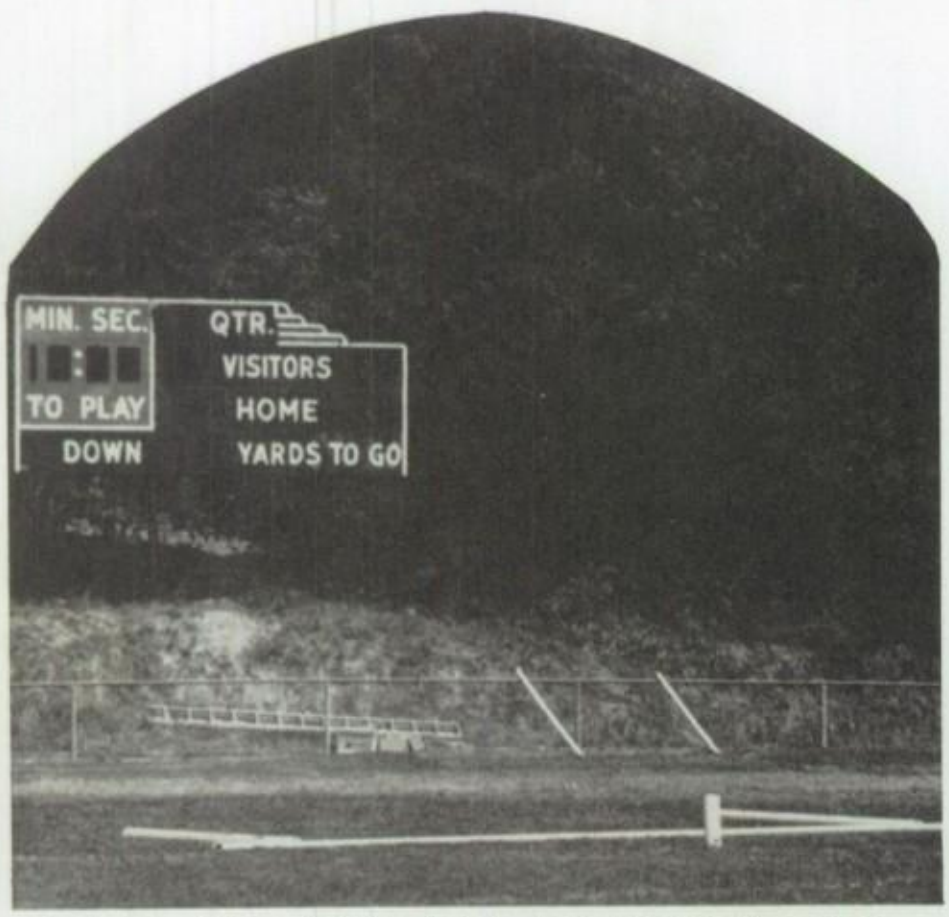
Some senior girls add spark to the Variety Show with their skit.

Some Things Are Not Approved at EPCHS

Smokin' in the boy's room.

For the safety of all students, no snowballs may be thrown on school premises.

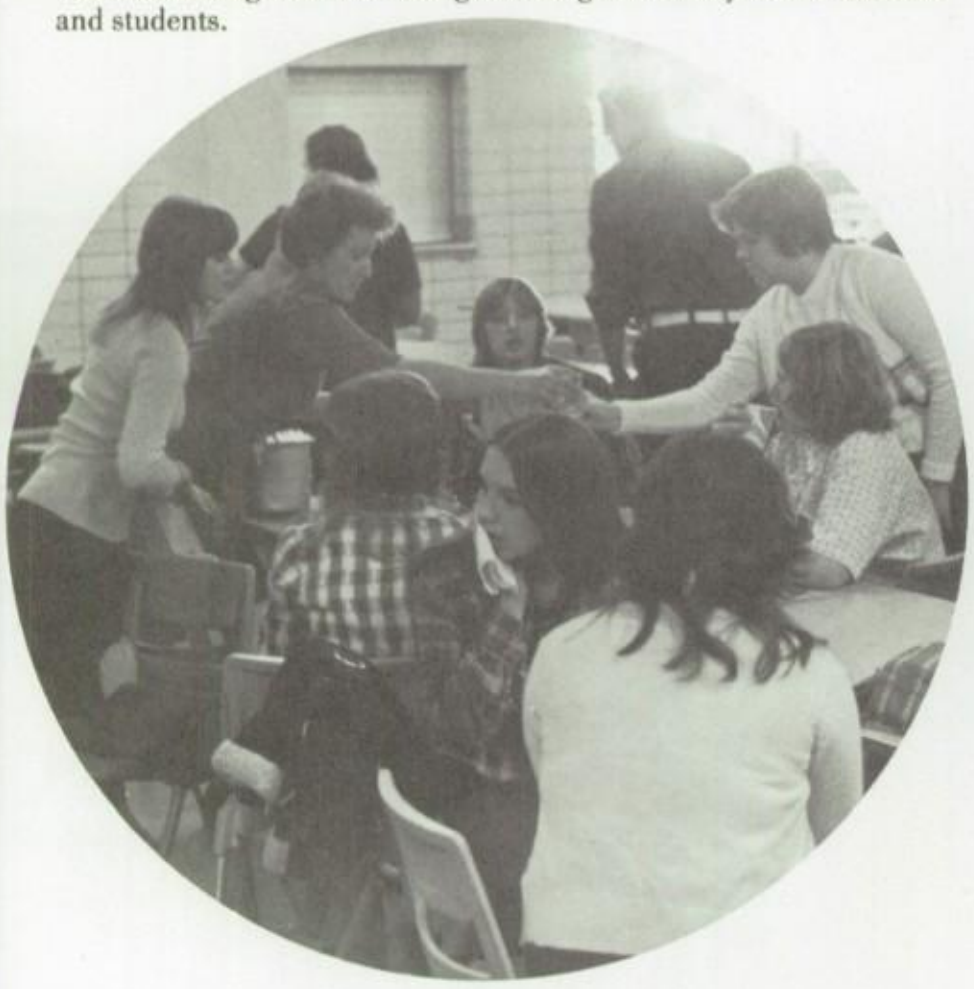




During the night vandalist students took a hack saw to the goal post.

Discarded torn auditorium seats illustrate the maturity of our audiences.

Those suffering from the tear gas were given aid by fellow teachers and students.



Graffiti cover walls and depreciates the school's value.

Firemen set up fans to clear the halls of tear gas.

Some things are not approved by the administration, or not necessarily, all the students. Evidence of immature vandals is found throughout the school in broken windows, torn auditorium seats, a sawed-off goal post and light pole. Infractions of rules are demonstrated in smoke filled bathrooms, graffiti on walls, and snowballs hurtling through the air. Inconsiderate action filled our halls with tear gas and caused numerous casualties ranging from eyes and throat burns to a broken foot from jumping from the windows to escape. Because of these, and others, students are now restricted to certain parts of the building during lunch hours. We can't go outside because of the damage done to the trees and we can't go down any halls so to assure that the ceiling will remain intact and classes won't be disturbed. Are you proud—of this?

Boarded broken windows are a common sight throughout the school.

Although there weren't 76 trombones, the Marching Red Raiders began the parade with a rank of eight, followed by many unique and colorful floats. This was just a beginning of what was to come throughout the rest of the day.

Even though they tried their hardest, they were unable to "cage the Rockets" and lost by a small margin, but the loss showed only on the scoreboard, as night fell the mood changed, "Under the Big Top." Couples enjoyed the music of "The Naturals" and forgot the disappointments of the day.

Five Crazy Days of Homecoming

I want to get to know you.

The start of Teacher Appreciation Day was a free breakfast served by the student body.

People fell from exhaustion rehearsing for the Variety Show.

One of the Senior Sweats, Nancy Moreland, proves she's got spirit.

I love you.

Homecoming meant short schedule to many students, but to others it meant hard work for the gymnastics assembly. Keeping their mouths shut was too much to endure for the girls who met up with Jack Tapp, our MR. IRRESISTABLE, but they got even by sending him a green flower the next day. (Ha, Ha) Now, with Teacher Appreciation Day out of the way, students came alive at The Center Ring on Thursday night, featuring the crowning of the Homecoming Royalty. Friday was Spirit Day and a pep assembly with a Three Ring Circus, powderpuff play-offs, tug-o-war finals, and the cross country race. All in all it was an exciting week for Homecoming '74.

Bug off!

Going down with a SMACK, Vickie Hasten learns the agony of defeat.

You got a nice bod.

Instead of using friendly persusion, the Seniors used brute strength to become the champions.

"Ladies, I just call 'em like I see 'em."

Come See the Greatest Show on Earth

Even minutes after they were crowned the 1974 Royalty, the look of happiness and astonishment lingers.

Girls are always clownin' around, and here they put their talents to use.

At the Greatest Show on Earth, the Senior chicks crossed the tracks, but first they checked to see if the train was comin' from the North.

The EpoCH staff was kept busy passing out the EPoCHs, yet this isn't the rush!

What she is writing in Steve's book is real American Graffiti!

EPoCH Sums Up Memories

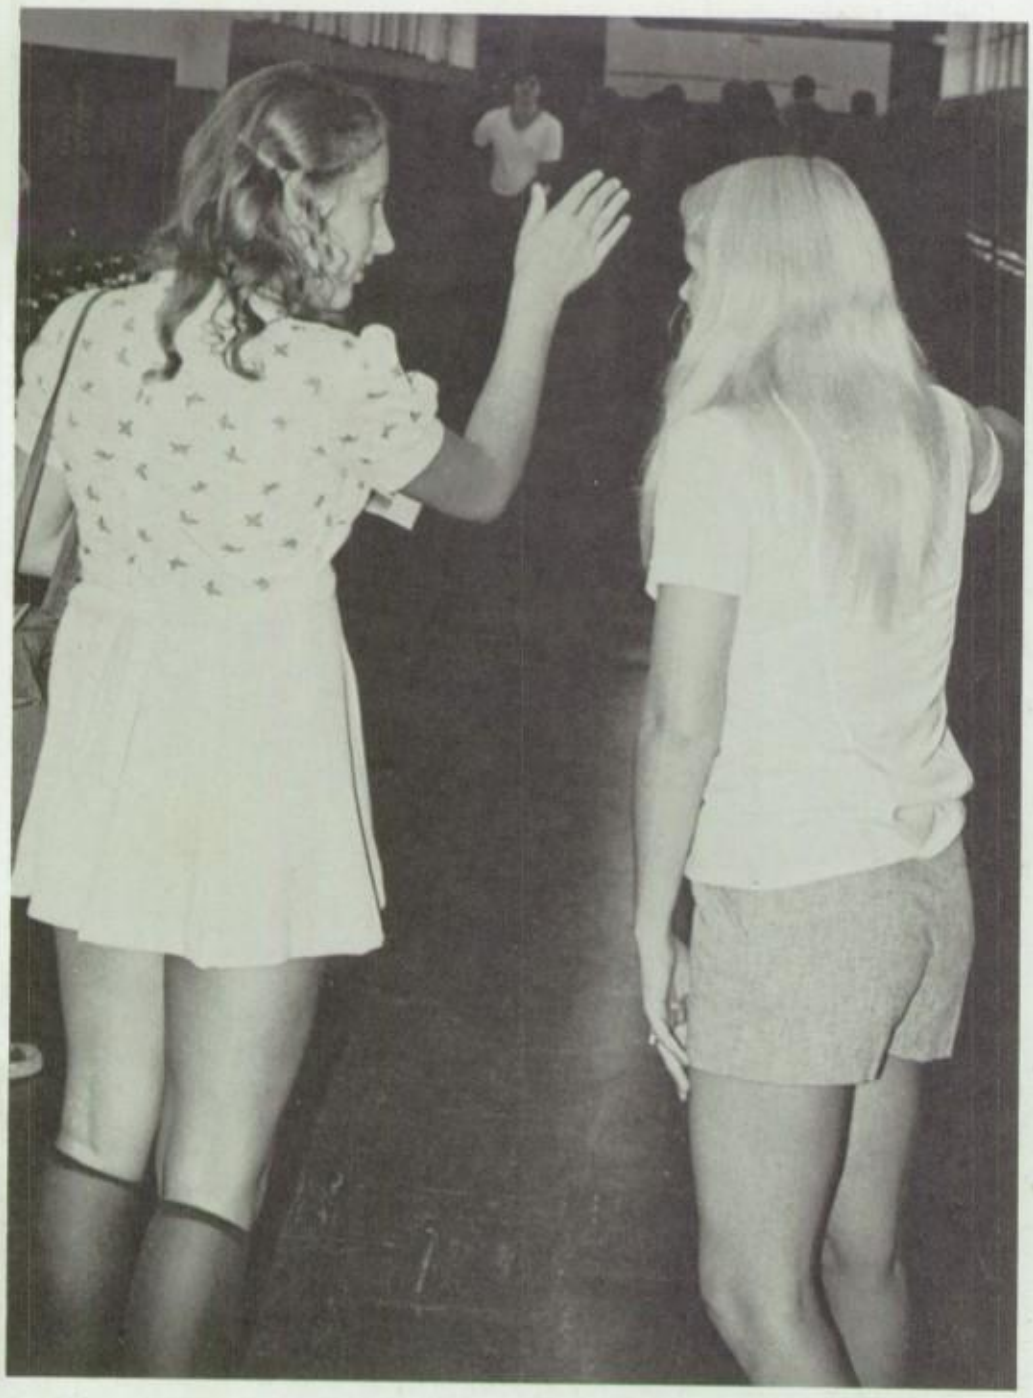
"Wall-to-wall people" is a good way to describe the setting of EPoCH Day. Even with the intense heat, hundreds of EP summer drop-outs gathered to reflect on old times and good friends. Clad in cut-offs, jeans, and shirts of various styles, kids were herded through the doors into the cafetorium. July 11 proved to be a memorable event for the many boatlips that attend EPCHS.

EPoCH needs muscles as much as brains, so Janet fakes it as she helps distribute the yearbooks.

On EPoCH Day the students were the ones who "got the LEAD OUT."

Say-Hey! Here Comes the Class of '78

"Down the hall, 40 paces south make a 36° turn, and six paces backwards, . . ."



These Freshmen meet the Sophomore version of the Andrew Sisters. TA-DA!

Freshmen show interested and excited faces at their first assembly.

At the Freshmen Mixer, Mr. Sanders proves you don't have to be a teen to boogie.

With the fright of high school ahead of them, the freshmen woke up early Tuesday morning, August 27th, for perhaps the first time all summer, to begin their career of high school.

After completing all six hours, the rookies congregated in the auditorium to become familiarized with the social life of high school. Skits of all kinds were performed by clubs in hopes of recruiting freshmen members.

After a hectic day, the freshmen were invited to entertain themselves and become acquainted with their fellow classmates that night at the Freshman Mixer. They loosened up and boogied to the music by "Flex" as they looked back on their first day of a new chapter of their life.

Season's Greetings from EPCHS

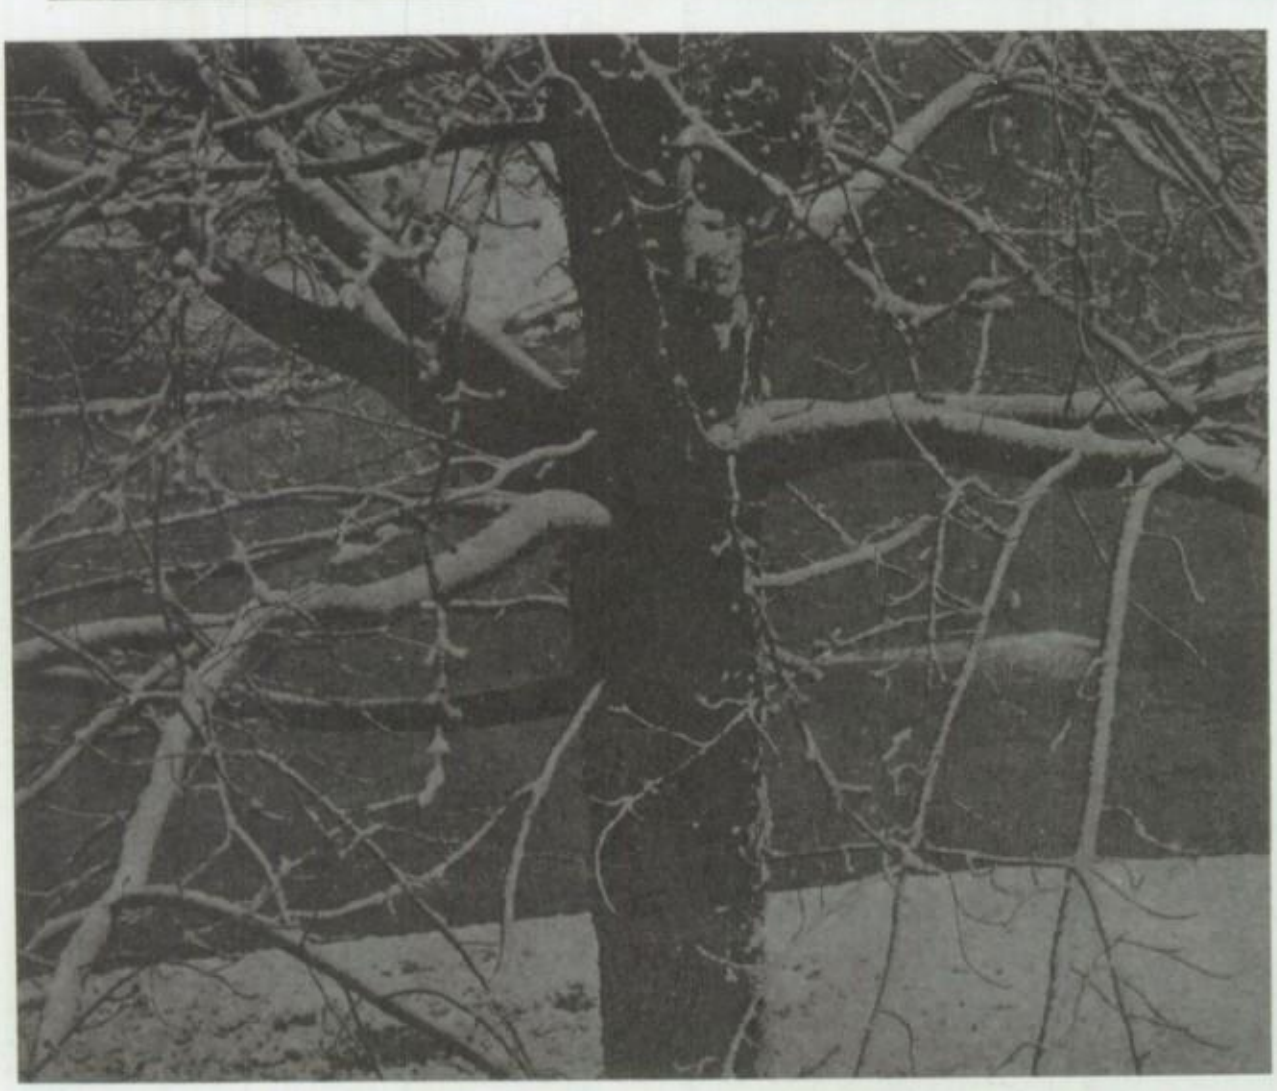
With an early snow, the spirit of Christmas was aroused throughout the school and community. Traditional decorations and the annual Christmas scene at the Courthouse Plaza stir up the anticipation of the coming holidays and the long awaited vacation from school.

Attending the Madrigal Dinner and finding a Christmas tree stuffed in your locker, sends a feeling of warmth and affection throughout each person. Seeing Santa Claus landing on the bus garage makes everyone sure Christmas has arrived.

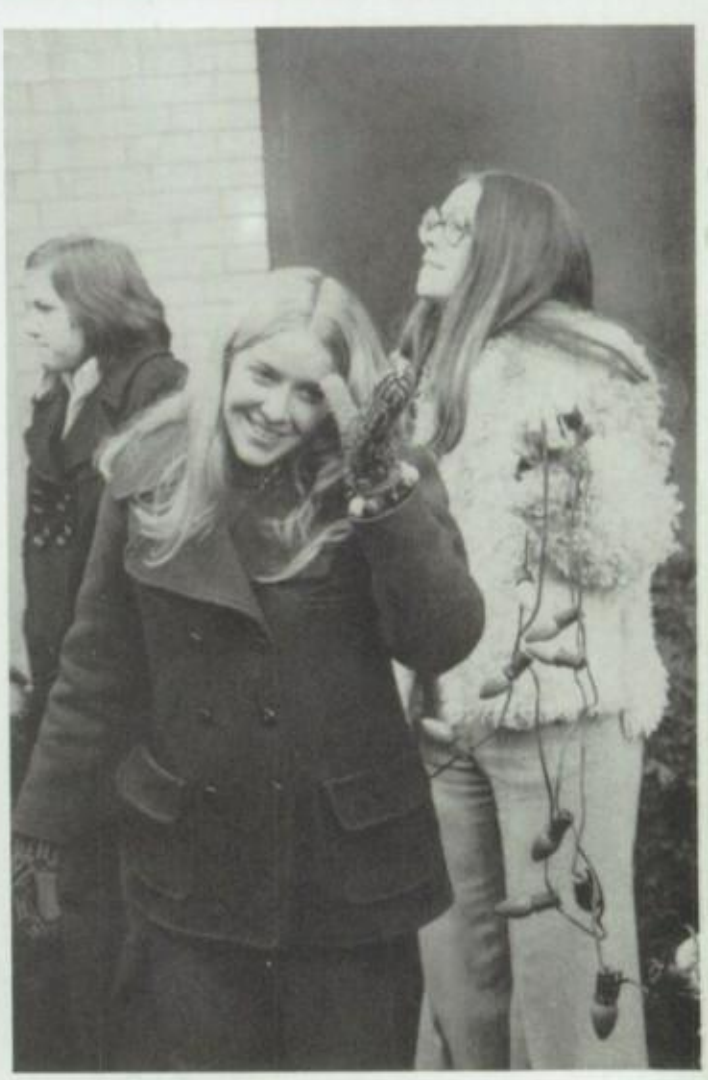
"Confounded American gadgets."

"Will the owner of this jolly old man, please come pick him up in the main office immediately. HO! HO! "

Student Council members gaze in awe and amazement at what they don't believe they did with their own two hands.



Nature shows her sign of season's greetings.



Feeling a little reluctant after hearing that the treetop angel was gone, Diane Rosenbaum ponders the thought of a fast getaway.

Madrigals Celebrate Christmas

As the candles flicker in the dark, the Jesters watch as the Madrigals leave their joyous dining hall.

With nothing else better to do, these two Lords chose to partake in a game of Chess.

The recorder players, Becky Benedict, Karen Pederson, and Steve Brennecke hold a jam session before performing.

Lord Barkley and Lady Weaks sing songs of love and enchantment to each other at this Christmas festivity.

Masters of Revelry, Karen Son and Jim Phillis, prove that two heads are better than one.

If You Want to Know About the Play

Lights! Position! Action! The night of April 19, was the very night that Broadway visited EPCHS! The title of the box office hit was "Ask Any Girl", a humorous comedy written by Christopher Sergel. The talents of some of our high schools finest performers were displayed on the stage that night. Aided by the help of Miss Lawrence, the students sacrificed much of their time toward the perfection of the play.

The plot of the play centers around a young girl, who leaves her over-protective parents and goes to the Madison Avenue Girls Hotel in New York City to start a free and new life. The always constant checking-up by the parents on their baby girl, and the normal female attitude concerning males, add up to the roaring laughter of the audience. So once again the play proves to be one of the many highlights of the school year.

The Night That Showed Sunshine

Filling Bradley's Student Center Ballroom with Sunshine, hundreds of couples enjoyed the music of Bill Hardesty's Holiday Brass. "You are the Sunshine of My Life," the theme of this years Junior Prom, sets the pace for Spring with basic colors of green, pink, and yellow.

In one final salute to the Seniors, this formal affair adds to their collection of high school memories.

The Class of '75 Is Steppin Out

Wrapping up their high school career in one final "walk up the ramp," the 1975 graduating class of East Peoria looks back on four years of unforgettable experiences. But putting the past aside, these Seniors press forward to bigger opportunities and new experiences that await them in the new world.

After several hours of hard practice, fear still grips the hearts of many uncertain graduates as they dread that long walk before hundreds of people. Imagining themselves tripping down the ramp or grabbing their diploma with the wrong hand, as another Senior class completes an important phase of their life.

Senior, Anne Halstead, shows a smile of relief as she takes that last glorious walk.

Over the River and Through the Woods

The Cross-Country team finished the season with an encouraging outlook for next year. Led by captain Phil Hight, the harriers completed a 1-9 season. Coach McGraw, who coached the team this year for the first time, has a promising outlook for next year. With only one senior on the team this year and much potential in freshmen, the Raiders should finish high in the Mid-State-Nine ratings next year.

Grueling practices began in early August and many members practiced throughout the year for track season. An average day for a cross-country team member was a five to ten mile run before and after school. Coach McGraw usually ran with his team through East Peoria, on the high school track, or at FonDuLac Park. The hard work and determination of these runners paid off when the relatively young and inexperienced team finished a more than satisfactory season.

Football is one of the most popular and exciting of American sports. This is especially true of high school football, which attracts the greatest number of players. The Red Raiders worked hard this year to improve their passing, punting, and running skills. Their first match against Ottumwa, Iowa, proved worth while: it was one of the teams victories.

A large part of football excitement is spirit. Cheerleaders, enthusiastic fans, and an outstanding marching band all helped boost the team's spirit. Though this season was rather disappointing, the effort players exerted will not be wasted: we can anticipate a well-rounded squad next year.

Matmen Win 14 Lose 7!

As the 1975 wrestling season came to a close, the East Peoria wrestling team had compiled a record of 14 and 7. This showing of strong standing came only through the periods of long practice sessions which took place every night. During these workouts, the matmen worked on physical training and perfecting the smoothness of moves needed to compile a record such as this years.

The hard work and bodily training paid off as many of the wrestlers felt they had gained the self-satisfaction obtained when one has pushed his body into physical shape and then used it to help the Raiders to a great season. There were many good young wrestlers, so keep hope for coming years.

A Discouraging Season

The Red Raider basketball team suffered a discouraging, rebuilding year. Led by new Coach Hoffmire, the players practiced hard but couldn't seem to get it together. With only one senior, Paul Cone, on the team, all of the responsibility fell on the sophomores and juniors. Many sophomores were picked for the team to gain experience. The juniors comprised the rest of the team and led the East Peoria attack.

Coach Hofimire is looking forward to the coming year. With the promising talent of the sophomores and juniors, the Raider team should be very strong next year. With all the hard work and practice put in by the team, much self satisfaction was gained by each player.

Coaching Helps Raider Track!

With new coaches Newton and McGraw, the East Peoria track team completed a very strong season in the Mid-State Nine. Coach Newton, the sprinter coach, won the respect of his sprinters and developed the talent of the relatively young group. Coach McGraw, who is the coach at C.J.H.S., came up to give his time to coach the distance runners every night. The practices were hard and developed the team's potential.

With the loss of many leaving seniors last year, the team's final record shows they accomplished much this year. Young runners filled in the places left and tried their best to help the team. The young team will be a threat in years to come.

The East Peoria tennis team worked hard in practices and overcame their handicap of losing many seniors last year to end the season with a decent record. Juniors and seniors had to take the extra load and put out extra effort for their team and school. The sophomores and juniors and this year's team developed their potential to their fullest knowing that next year would see the loss of four of this year's members.

These players can be proud of their efforts this year and look forward to strong seasons in coming years.

Baseball Still GREAT!

The image of last years baseball team was the thought in the mind of the young players on the baseball team when practice began. They kept it in mind throughout the practices at the beginning of the season. And they've upheld it. This years team looked strong for the young team that it is. With much potential in the younger players and the loss of key players last year, the team worked very hard to keep the honor of their team and school.

Many players, who would be playing golf instead of baseball this year, have helped fill in the spots left by seniors on last year's championship team. And the result, a winning team.

The Freshman football team ended the 74 Season with a 7-2 record. The team, coached by Mr. Plessner, started practices this summer to work out the smoothness needed in making plays to have a winning season. The only losses resulted when playing Manual and Central. These boys can expect much playing in their remaining high school years.

The Sophomore team had a record almost opposite the Freshman record. The main thing that hampered the Sophomore team was that many Sophomores practiced with the Varsity team. This resulted in the Sophomore team not being able to run the plays smoothly and easily. But, since many of the Sophomores played Varsity, we should have a strong team next year.

The tension shows on Coach Plessner's face as the Raiders on the sideline help cheer the team on.

Raiders Enjoy Great Season

The Freshmen and Sophomore tennis players practice every day. How would you like jogging to the Fon du lac tennis courts every day before practice even begins? These dedicated players do. But it's always worth it when they serve that winning ace, or a smashing over-head volley. The racketeers work on better techniques for this popular, challenging game, so that they may join the E. Peo. ranks at the Varsity level.

E. Peo.'s Baseball Future Is Bright!

The freshmen and sophomor baseball teams worked hard durin their season. Running indoor became a pastime for many of th boys. Running built their endurance for the tough battles ahead. Th team continued to practice throug bad weather and poor field cond tions. The future looks bright fo East Peoria's baseball program, wit a new baseball diamond and promis ing players.

Raiders Win Conference

Raiders are elated with victory in the District Championships.

The girls varsity volleyball team had a winning season with a 7-1 record. Winning the conference title and 2nd place in the district tournament were highlights of this year's activities. Smearing Limestone off the floor 15-3, 15-1, became the ideal game for East Peoria. After playing that perfect game, "Get 'em like Limestone" became the team's motto. The team was made up of juniors except Anne Halstead, a senior, and Donna Sutton, a freshman. Kathy Glynn and Gayla Winter are the power-spikers or "spickers" as the team calls the spikes. Any coach would want players like Chris Shirk, Debbie Tittle, and Jean Callow who can play great anywhere on the court. After losing the first game to Pekin, the team became conscious of losing and decided they didn't like it, therefore there were no more losses this season in conference play. Next year 6 players will be back ready again to run on the court to BSS!

All the J. V. team listen intently to Coach Hendryx. After following the advice: "Watch-Out!"

The East Peoria Junior Varsity basket ball team ended the season 4-1 for confer ence play and 7-1 for the total season East Peoria lost an early game to Centra but got sweet revenge after beating them 27-21 in a nonconference game Although the last game could have moved E.P. into first place, the J.V.'s are satis fied knowing they're better than anyone else. Donna Sutton, Kim Huston, and Trisa Murphy play outstanding defense and offense while Anita Legaz and Linda Therkildsen play aggresively under the basket. The bench fills out with Gail Dubas, Melynda French, Rhonda Yemm Debbie Wilcoxen, DeDe Winkler, Janet Logan, Janice Riddle, and Kathy Dodson Everyone on the team plays exceptional basketball. Coach Hendrix or "Hitler" as the team calls him did a great job of coaching this winning team. The junior varsity look forward to next year with anticipation of another East Peoria victory.

There Must Be Something in the Water . . .

"There must be something in the water," is a familiar saying around East Peoria. It is the only thing Coach Jones can think of for why East Peoria grows ball players so short. Jean Callow the tallest on the team at 5′8″ and Gayla Winter did the expert rebounding for East Peoria, while Kathy Glynn, Joan Mooberry, Jeanette Ulick and Chris Shirk all take turns potting a few good outside shots. Debbie Tittle and Carrie "Fish" Fisher prove that the hands are quicker than the eye with outstanding defense. Patty Adams, the only senior on the team, proved invaluable when we needed a couple quick baskets. Kristy Glynn and Jeanie Shirk finish the team and get needed experience for coming years. The highlights of the Central game was Jean Callow keeping "Mrs." Olson (Central's high scorer) to 5 shots, and Kathy Glynn hitting a high of 27 against the Manual Rams. The towering Richwoods Knights passed the Raiders in a very aggressive game. And mental errors were one of the factors of the other loss with Limestone. During the Mid-State Nine Tournament, the Raiders slaughtered Bergan but lost to Central. The Raiders ended the season 6-3 a much improved and skill ball team.

Practice Fun and Bloomers

The girls' tennis team survived the early morning practices, their dresses, and bloomers to have an encouraging season. The resurfacing of the courts made it difficult to practice and play the matches in front of the East Peoria fans. So, much of the time the girls spent playing at Fon du Lac Park. Coach Wagner instructed the girls on fundamentals and different strategy. The new nine-point tie breaker rule decided quite a few matches. Most of the team is returning and looking forward to next year; and those who aren't, found this year's tennis fun and worthwhile for play in later years.

E. P. Girls Smash Their Way to Success

The East Peoria girls badminton team tied for first place with Pekin in the Mid-State Nine. The scores of the Pekin matches were 3-3 and 4-2. They ended their season 7 and 3. The singles players Logue, Theobald, and Carroll all play outstanding and show excitement toward the game. They ended the season 6-2, 5-3, and 0-3-1 respectively. The team has two players back from last year, Kris McGlothlin and Kim Beasley. They formed a doubles team which went 8-1 through the season. Other of E.P.'s doubles teams are: Walker and Tannhauser, 4-3; Wagner and Dickerson, 7-1; Clark and Gerbracht, 7-2; Noble and Jones 2-0; and Holtke and Toumbs, 3-0.

Over 50 girls tried out for the team of 16. Badminton is becoming a popular sport that's fast-moving and exciting. This is well shown by the good turnout of interest. Congratulations to a job well done.

A Smile Is a Universal Language

In the first part of my AFS year in the U.S., I had a hard time trying to understand the people, the religions, the costumes, and the different kind of life. I felt that the coming year would be hard; it was, but also interesting. When I came here, I didn't have anyone to talk to about my problems, my experiences, and my feelings. It was hard because I didn't speak English very good.

In this period, I missed a lot of my Uruguan friends and family, but I didn't want to go back. I tried very hard and progressed slowly. I started to make friends in high school and especially in my family. I found my best friend to be my American father, "Woody", who is a special person to me.

Now, I feel like a winner; a winner of love and understanding, a winner of friends, and this is my biggest ambition in life.

Also, I would like to tell you "thanks" for sharing with me this wonderful year of my life, and that you will always find in me a friend, a Uruguan friend, and a friend forever . . .

Host family left to right: Cindy, Mrs. Woodburn, Cathy, Mario Costa, Mr. Woodburn.

"I hope I start school off on the right foot."

"Just the right size!"

Atten-n-n-n-n-hut! 1-2.

Slaving in the sun and finally conquering "cardiac hill", which later became a daily affair, the 1974 Marching Red Raiders were kept going by the reality that "No hill is too steep to climb". Providing entertainment for parades and football games was the objective of the 128 worn-out musicians.

1-3, 4-5. Although this type of counting would not be accepted in any ordinary math class, it is quite common to members of the band as they "follow the beat of a different drummer." In the process of practicing for their many public performances throughout the year, students in the band program at E.P.C.H.S. find out there's more to music than just blowing air through a horn. No matter if it be pep band or symphonic band each note must be played with right accent, at the right time, in perfect intonation, and with the most beautiful tone quality possible. As the rest of the student body hustles to and from class, they are unaware that in 175C, "the band plays on."

Pep Band entertains the crowd and supports the basketball team.

Stage band's first public performance was for the National Honor Society assembly.

With cheers and yells and songs of all kinds, the EPCHS pep band truly lives up to its name. Whether they are heard singing "We want a touchdown" at football games, or struggling through the Mid-State-9 cheer at basketball games, you'll always know when the pep band has arrived.

EP's pep band's objective from year to year has been to show the various teams at our school, that this illustrious organization is behind their team all the way. With "a bottle a pop" and "a big banana" the pep band continues to cheer the Raiders on and entertain the crowd as well.

A new addition to the music program here at East Peoria is a stage band, or dance band, if you prefer. Practicing each Tuesday after school, one of the years highlights was entertaining, and sharing with the organ, the experience of playing during the National Honor Society assembly.

The E.P.C.H.S. Orchestra Makes Beautiful Music

Bowing feline intestines (catgut) over the strings of their instruments, the orchestral minded students of EP find that good music can be made from just about anything. Laboring hard each day during 3rd hour and once a week on Monday night, they gain the satisfaction of providing the community with all kinds of music. After one of their excellent performances, these string members deserve to take a bow.

The culture of E.P.C.H.S. consists of more than the liberal arts of music and art. The liberty of dance is found in the club of modern dance, ORCHESIS.

Orchesis is an organization with fifty members entirely assembled of girls. The climax of the year is the annual Spring Concert which was held March 14-15. The theme of the concert was "A Night at the Movies" with songs from Godspell, Brian's Song and Exorcist, with a special tribute to Elton John presented by the Senior members.

During the year, Orchesis members performed for Pleasant Hill Mother's Club. From the profits of this year's concert, the year closed with the awards banquet.

Each Saturday morning as these brave souls climb through the EPOCH room windows, which act as guillotines, they invariably fall on the hot radiators that have been running since A building was erected. Civics Classes Sponsor Child, Cheng Chen-Ke

Mr. Maurice Errion's civics classes have taken on the project of sponsoring a child through the Christian Children's Fund. This program has been in existence since 1938.

The first step toward sponsorship is filling out a sponsor application which indicates the country, age, and sex of the child to be sponsored. Secondly, the application is mailed along with the first monthly gift of $15.

Personal history

In approximately two weeks the name of the sponsored child is received along with a recent photograph, a personal history of the child, and complete information about the home or project where the child lives.

About six weeks later, a letter is received from the child with a welcome to the CCF family. This sponsorship continues until the sponsor terminates it.

The children who receive CCF help live in orphanages, homes for abandoned babies, family helper projects, schools for the blind, nursing homes, vocational centers, and many other types of projects.

Mr. Errion's class is sponsoring a boy, Cheng Chen-Ke, from Taiwan. Cheng is in junior high and enjoys basketball and mathematics.

Mrs. Babcock, Retiring In June, Recalls Early Cafeteria Days

Mrs. Alma Babcock, cafeteria manager, now in her 25th year at EP, will be retiring in June.

Before coming to EP, she started the lunch program at Washington School, and served as the chairman of the program at Roosevelt School, bringing her total working years to 39.

Upon retirement, Mr. and Mrs. Babcock plan to travel to Alaska, if they "don't get cold feet."

SHE WILL BE leaving EP with regrets, as she finds her work fun, enjoys the kids, and has made many friends, not just students but people of the community as well.

One special memory she will carry with her is of how she helped equip the cafeteria when it was new. Prior to its construction, students were allowed to leave the campus for lunch. This practice ended upon completion of the cafeteria.

Without tables and chairs, and with no dishwasher and only two sinks connected, how was lunch to be served? This created a problem, because here the principal wanted to end the open campus policy from the start and foresaw difficulties if it continued.

Industrial Arts Club again won the award for the first-place float. The other clubs always come up with original floats for the Parade but no club comes up with one quite like Industrial Arts! Taking their annual trip to Chicago, this club had several money raising events including selling Life Savers and Life Savers gum. By the end of this year Industrial Arts Club had a truly successful year.

Who Makes the Next Move?

The Show Must Go on!

Bringing celebrities within the walls of East Peoria, Film Club provides entertainment and excitement for all movie-minded students.

Not only do these films supply an opportunity to expand their knowledge of the theatre but also gives them a chance to improve their English grade by extra credit.

The night of the Living Dead sent chills up everyone's spine.

Mr. Wilkinson and Tim Johnston are selling tickets to one of Film Club's movies.

Lisa Dooley and Jim Kazense stand around talking after one of the movies.

The Spiral Staircase was another fine movie which Film Club provided for the school.

Math Club Has Another Fine Year.

Row 3: Dan Hulva, Jim Pleasant, Anne Halstead, Pam Bessler, Renee Overmier, Colleen McMichael, Debbie Feger, Rick Wanner, Susan Vroman.

Contradicting what your mother has always told you that pies are round, Math Club has evidence to prove that π^2. Not only is it socially oriented but also requires much concentrated work toward various math tests. A few of the math problems that they tackle include: 1. Figuring the percentage of drownings that might occur at one of their popular swimming parties. 2. Estimating the amount of weight per square inch aboard their hayrack. A success like this year's Math Club experienced could never be calculated on even the most expensive six-digit pocket calculator.

Phil Barkley and friend are enjoying the hay from the hayrack ride.

Where would our library be without the valuable help of our Library Assistants? Many give up their study hall and sometimes homeroom to keep our library running smoothly. Their varied work includes the restacking of books, filing microfilm, putting out magazines and stamping books. Here's a big thanks to the library assistants whose time has been booked up all year!

Chemistry Club Is a Blast

What is H_2O? How can it be used toward the progress of man? These are among many of the questions the members of Chemistry Club ponder upon. By selling candy (atomic zit bars) they raise money for their varied activities throughout the year. These activities range from a fun-filled hayrack ride to the more serious side of visiting the Argonne National Laboratory near Chicago, an annual event for this club.

With all their chemical know-how, Chemistry Club came up with a real bomb for the parade.

At the hayrack ride, Ralph Norton gives an expression of his opinion of the activity.

Parlez-vous Francais?

The French Club started out the year with a get-acquainted picnic at Madam Stokes' house. Their float in the homecoming parade and their skit in the Variety show were a big success. Their money-making projects included what French Club is well-known for: perfume and candy bars.

The highlight and goal of the club's activities this year was the trip to France. Twenty-two students from EPCHS visited London, Paris and Brussels. Even though they were forced to use their French all had fun and want to go back.

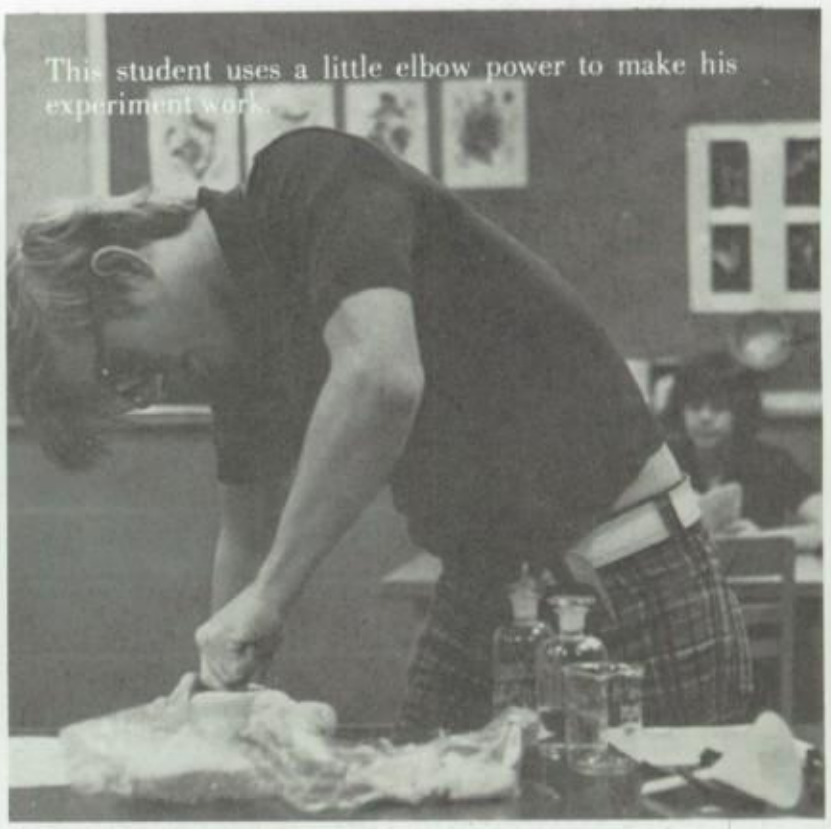
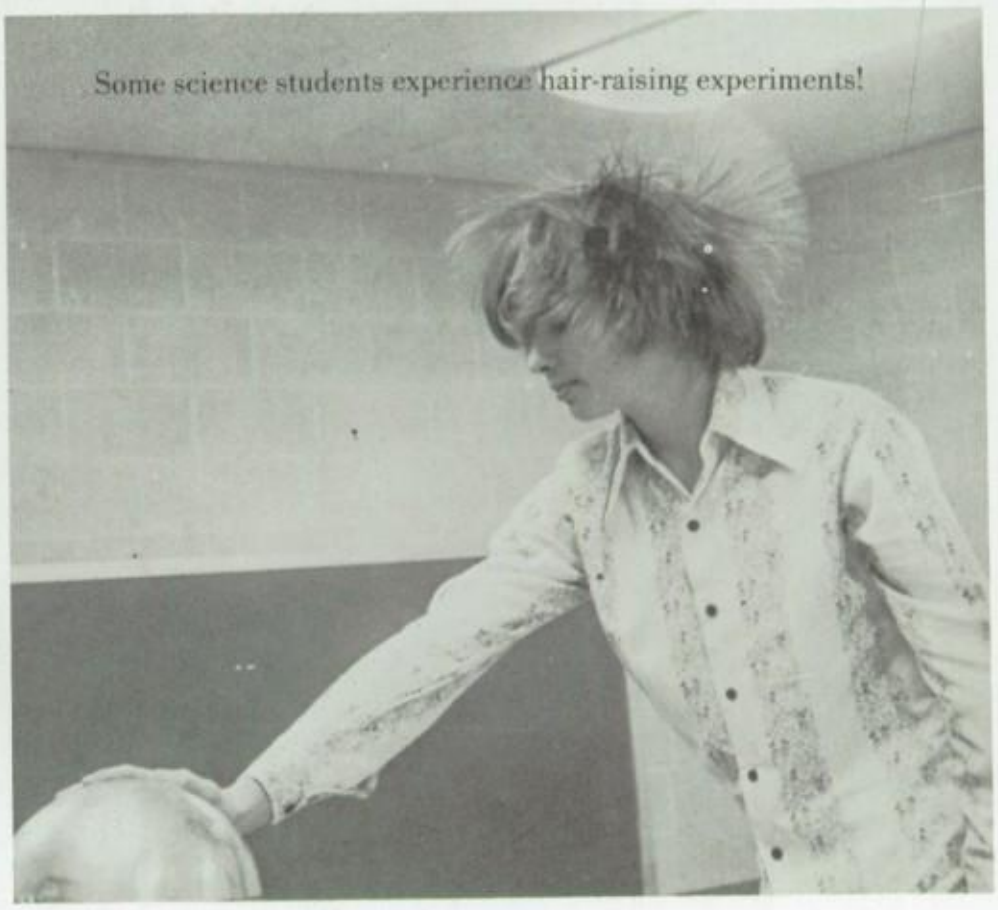
The Science Class Is a Garden for

"Dyn-o-mite! Do you see what I see?"



This student uses a little elbow power to make his experiment work.

Freshmen students learn to use their esophagus correctly.



Some science students experience hair-raising experiments!

"Hey ya Buss! Isn't that neat? What is it?"

When you're thirsty enough, you find out you'll drink about anything.

Growing Geniuses

Molecules aren't hard to make, are they.

Got ya!

I can see clearly now.

What evil lurks in the heart of men only the photographers know.

Chemistry classes know how to "put it all together."

Looks like Steve is working on a "weighty" problem.

The students have many courses to choose from in the science classes at East Peoria. The freshmen study a different area of science every nine weeks, which gives them a chance to learn about chemistry, earth science, biology and physics. The biology students look at the world through a microscope discovering the many aspects of life. College chemistry and physics offer preparation for college and future work.

Mathematics Is as American as

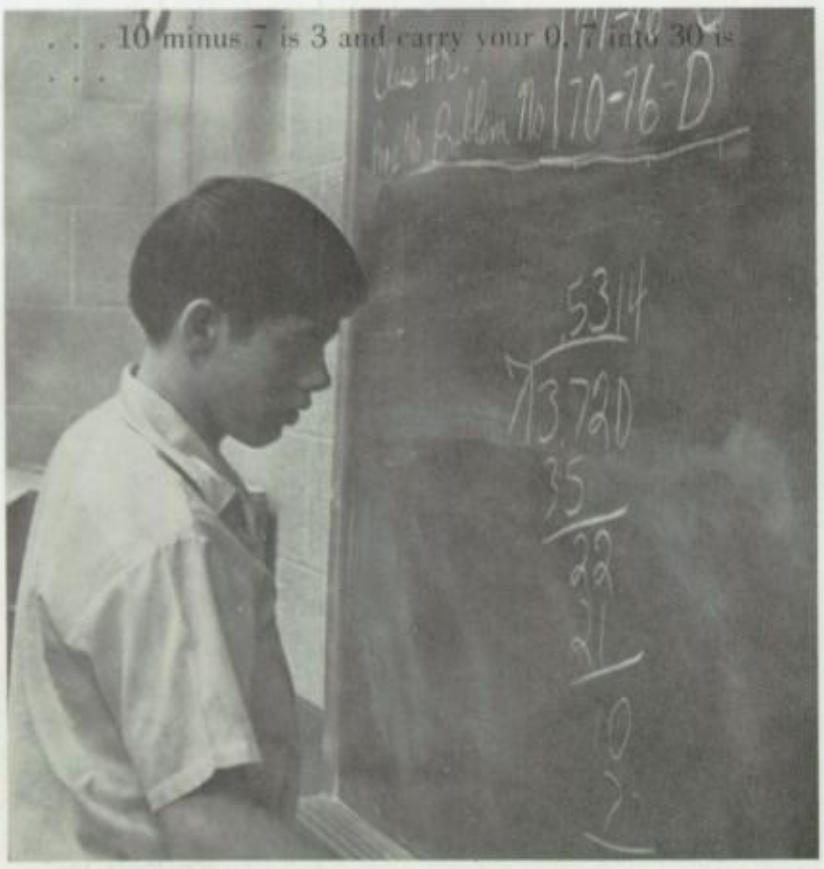
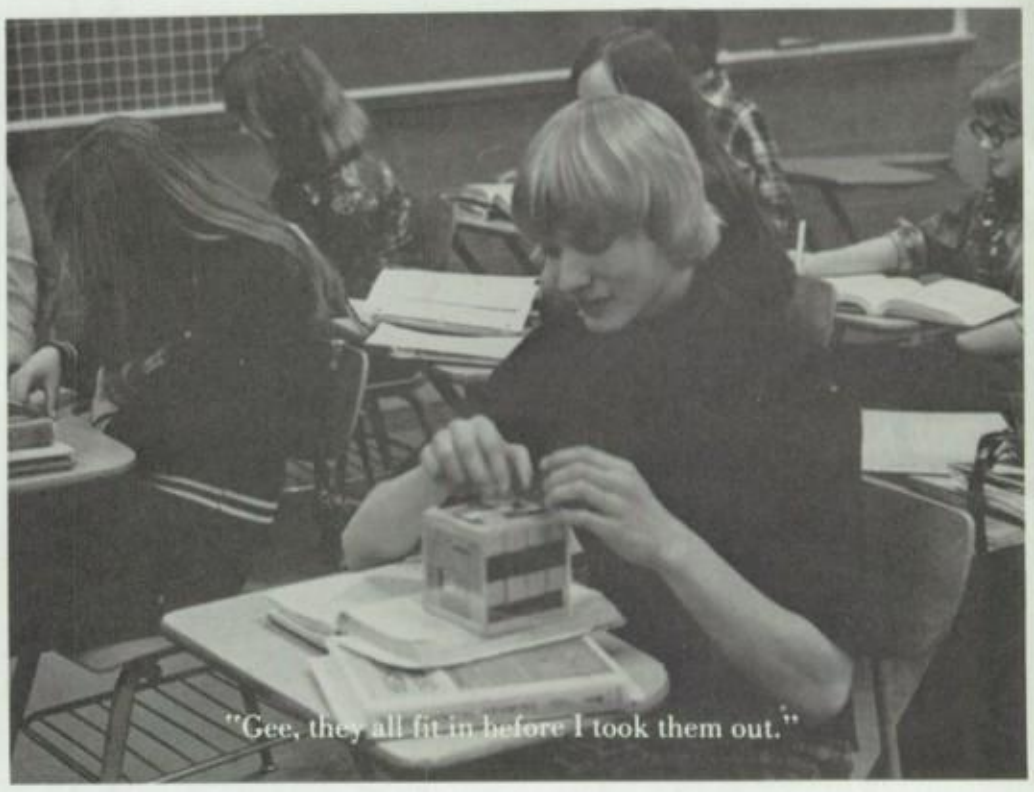
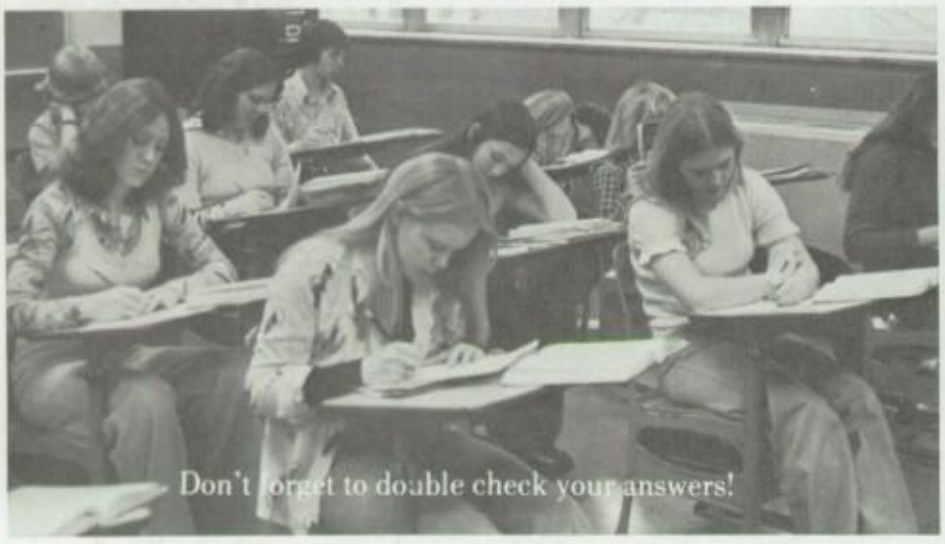
"I know I can do this problem, it's an easy one."

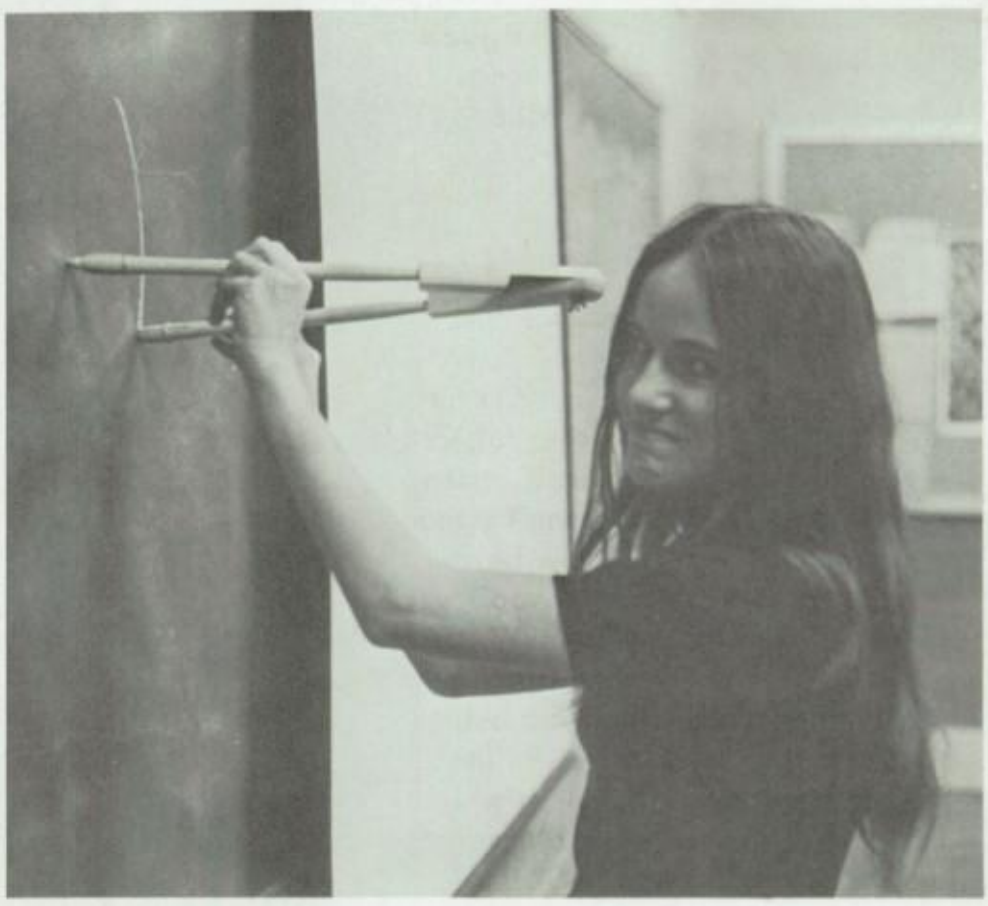




"Gee, they all fit in before I took them out."



Don't forget to double check your answers!

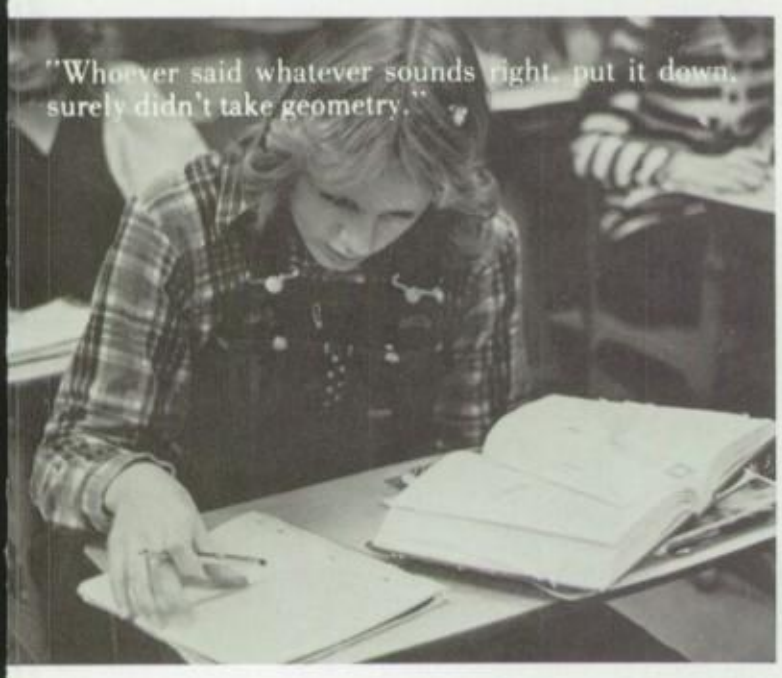


"Ohhh! You caught me going in circles!"

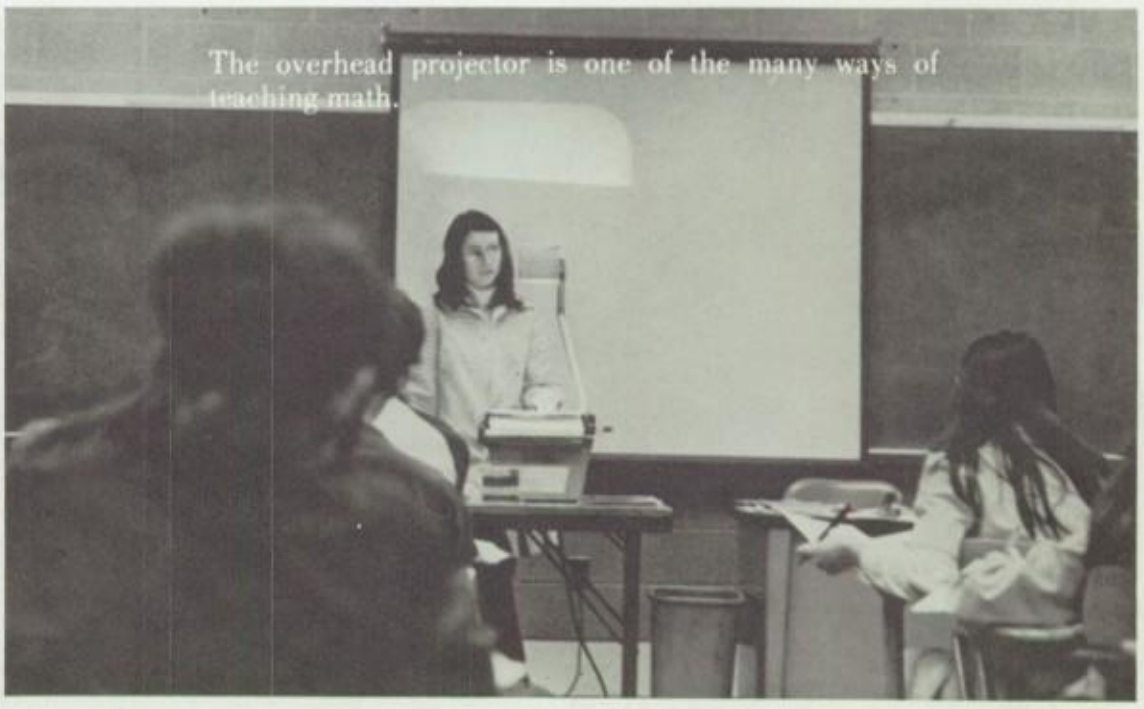
Dunce cap? No, just the math king wearing his crown.

"Who's copying? We're just comparing answers."

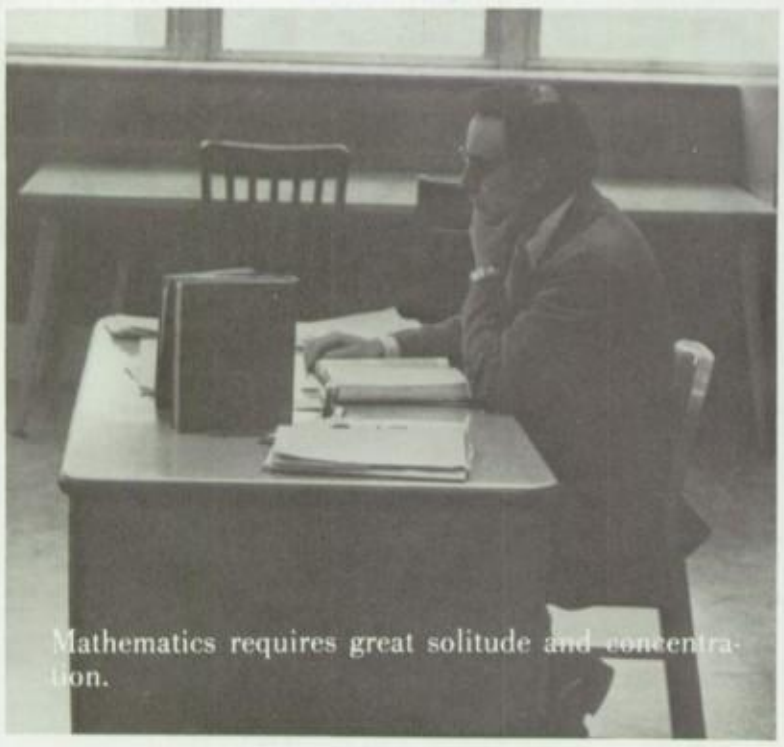
"You card! You oughta be punched."



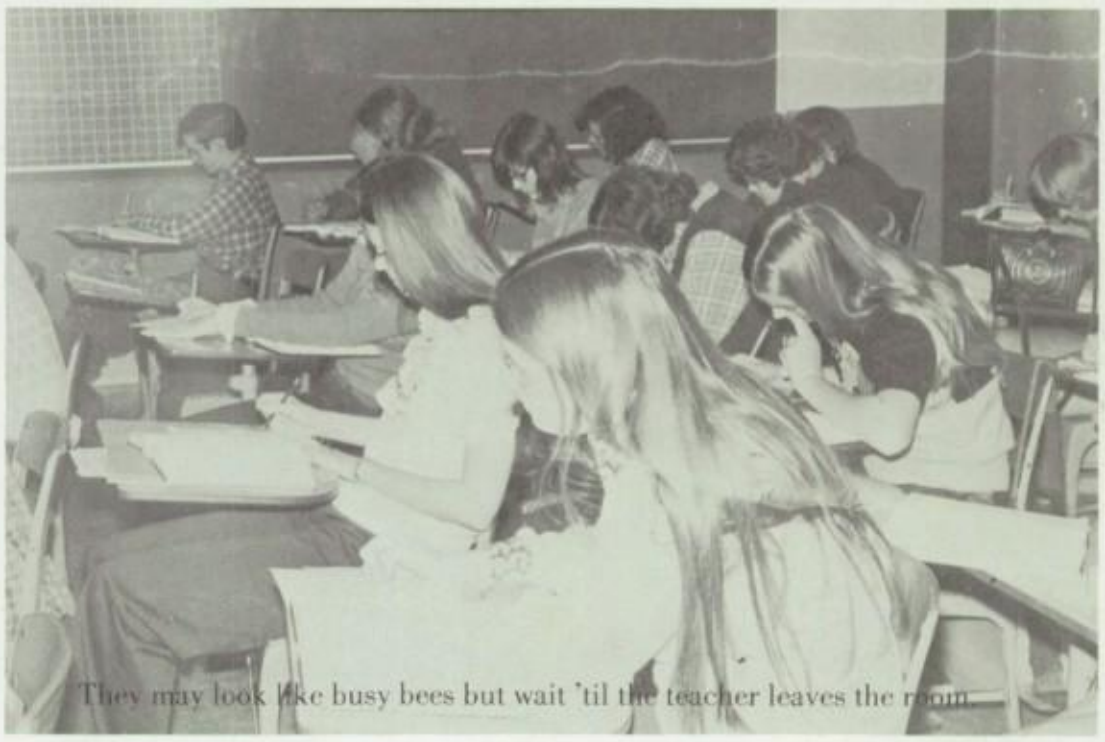
"Whoever said whatever sounds right, put it down, surely didn't take geometry."



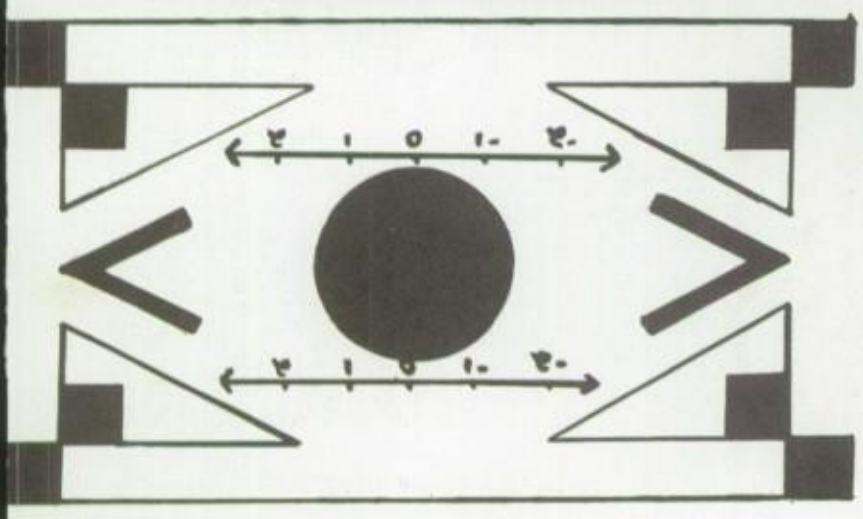
The overhead projector is one of the many ways of teaching math.



Mathematics requires great solitude and concentration.



They may look like busy bees but wait 'til the teacher leaves the room.



A student's first encounter with math begins with the equations of algebra or the fundamentals of math. For those who want to go further, geometry is full of logical thinking, challenging the mind for working with proofs, figures and geometric equations. The serious minded math student can continue with mathematics by taking advanced algebra and college prep math. Still another course offered for those who change with the world is computer programming.

Homemakers—Miss, Ms., Mrs., Mr.

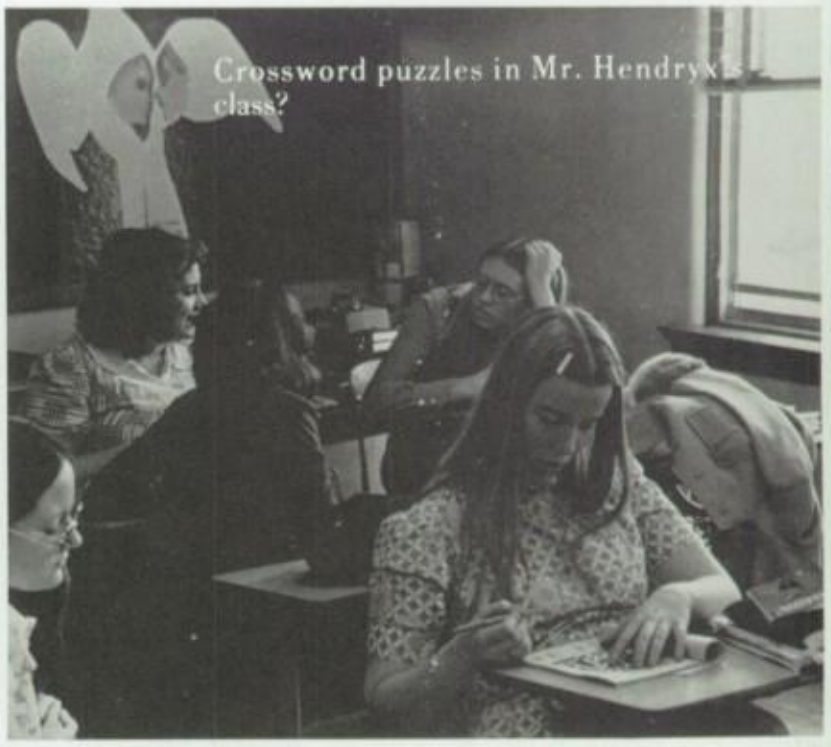
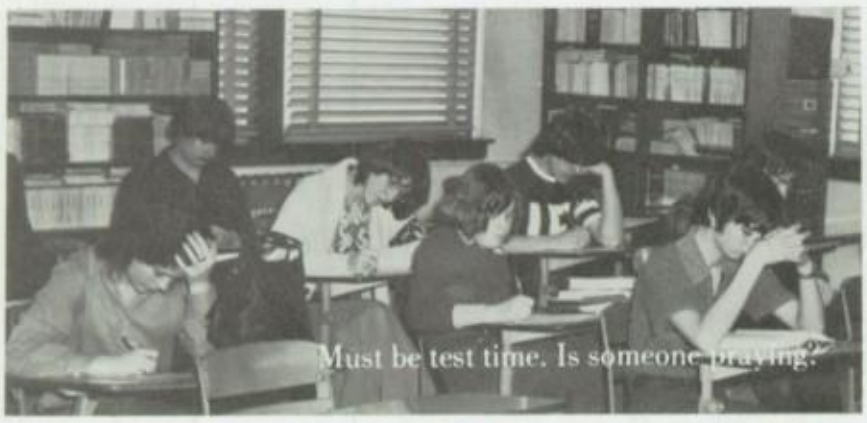
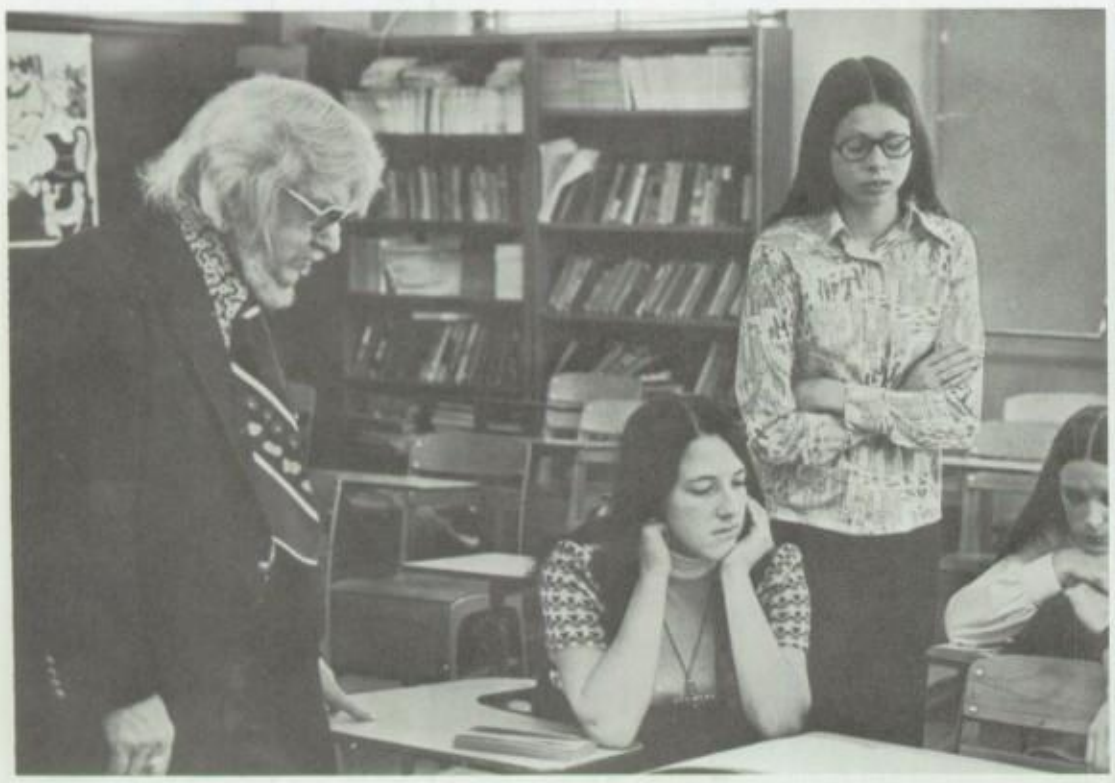
There Ain't No Better Course



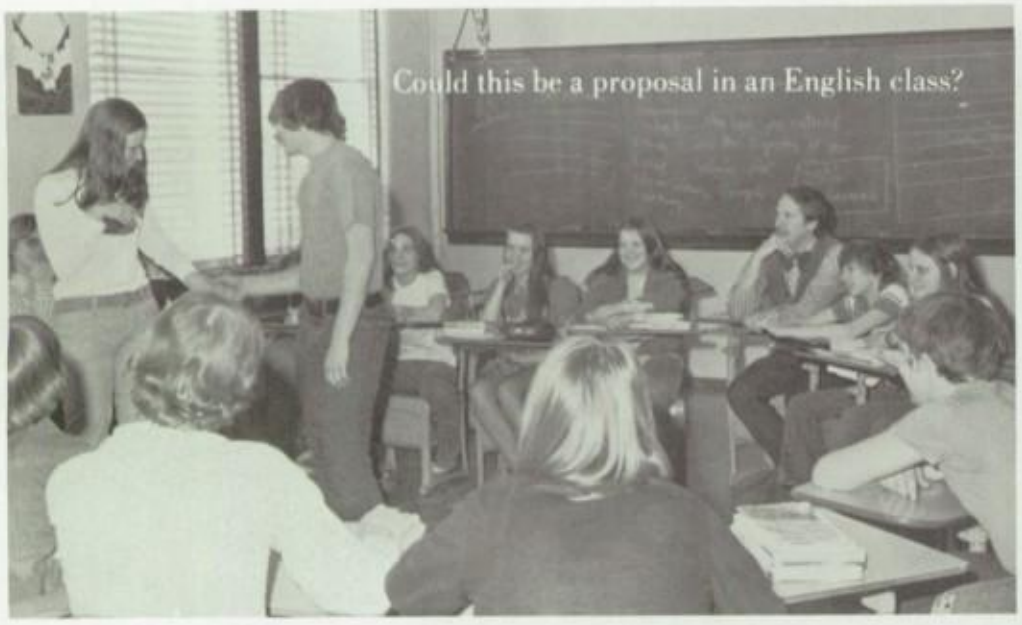




Mr. Wilson and his senior students appear to be "interested" in the reading material.

Nothing like a group effort to get work done.

Than English!

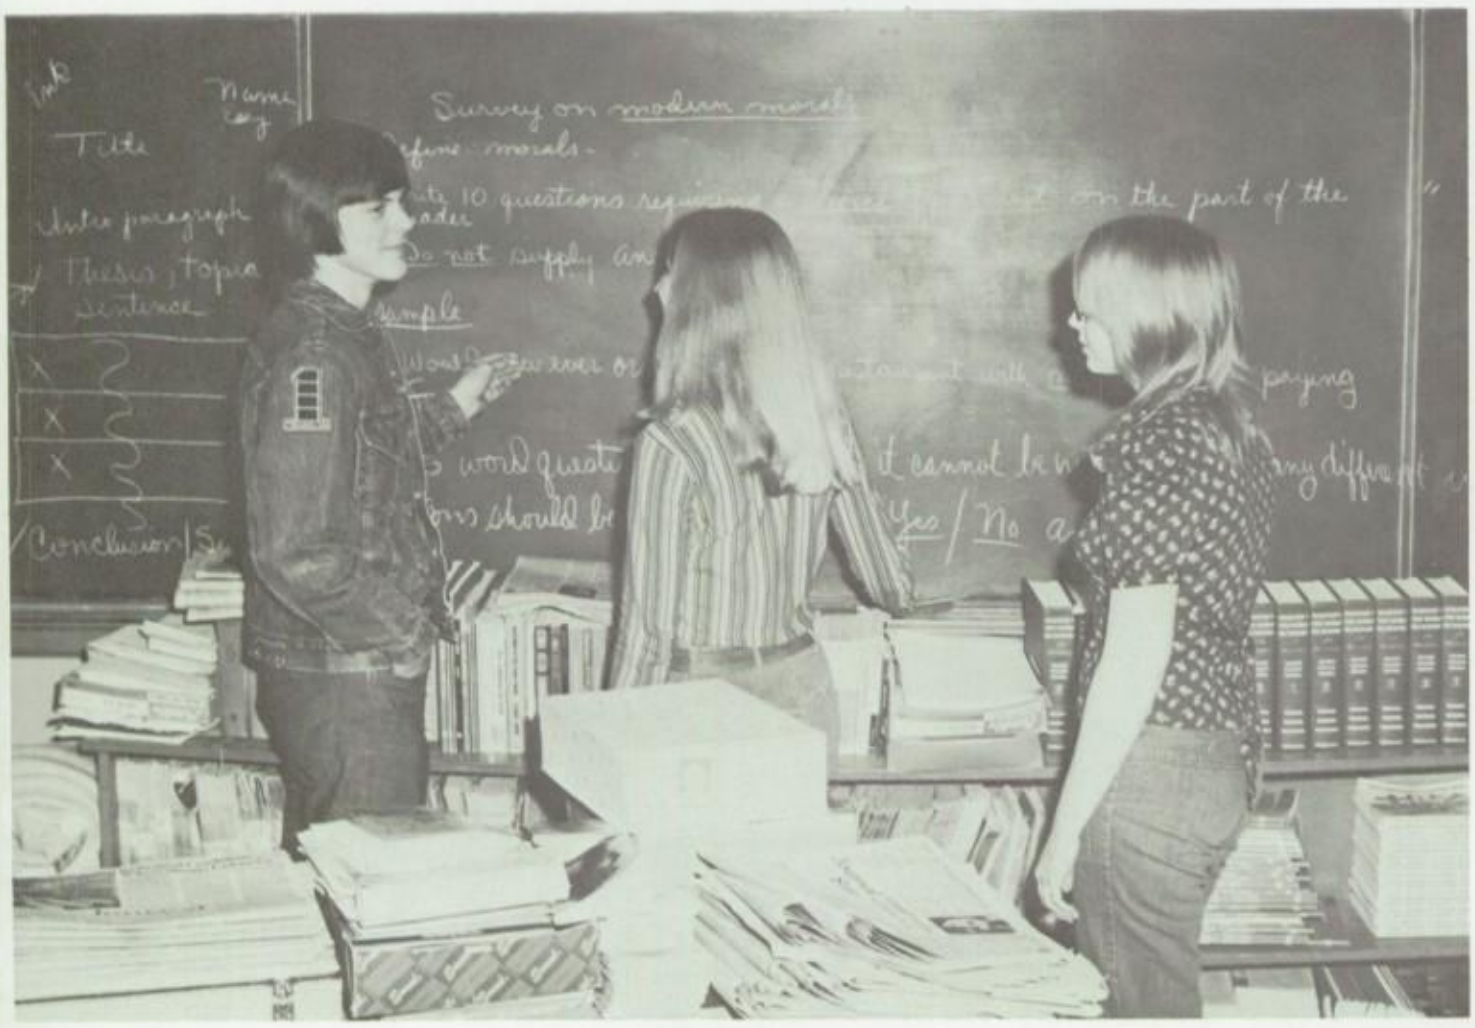


Could this be a proposal in an English class?

Oh no! I forgot!

The play, "The Mouse That Roared," has these students in awe.

Thank you!

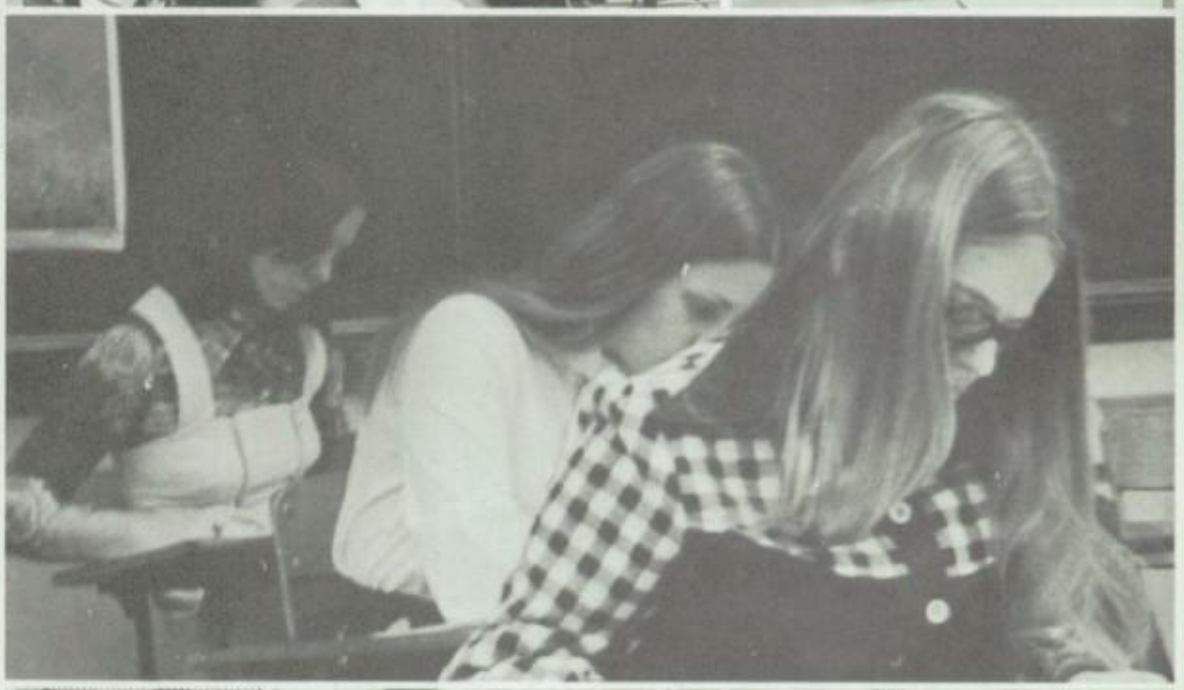


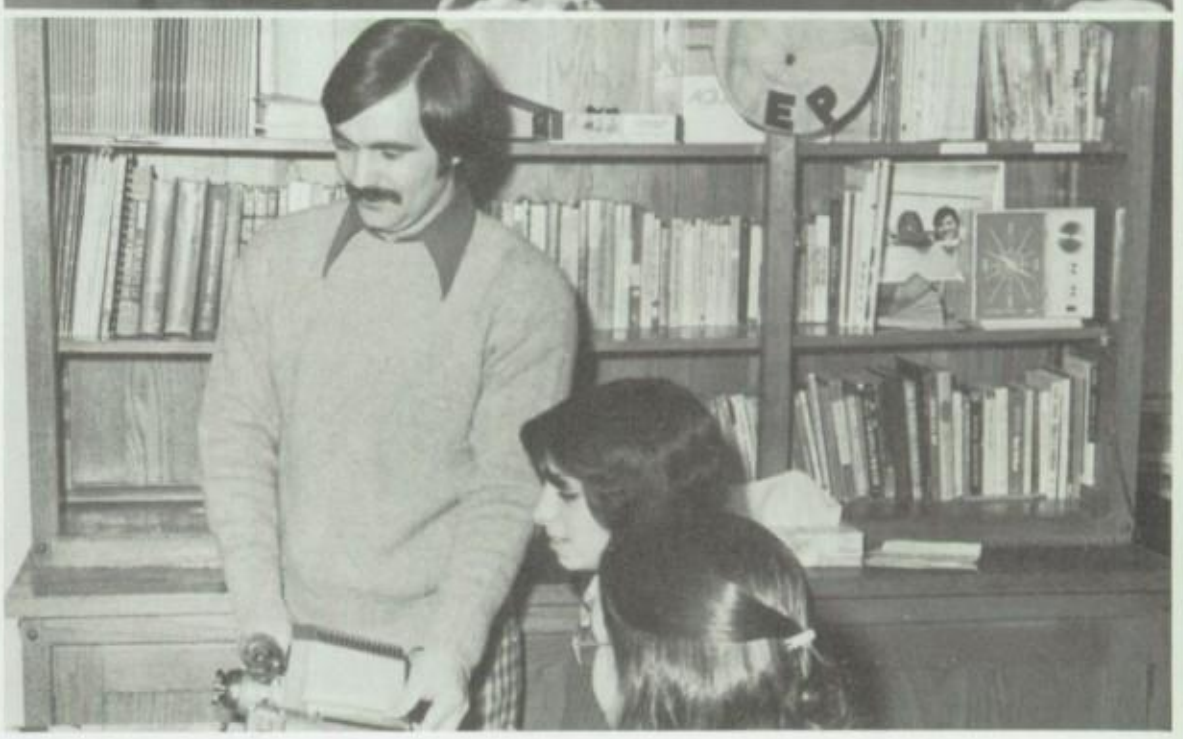
"Didn't you see the assignment? It was right here."

Not only teaching the basics of grammar and literature the English Department here gave students a chance to read several interesting novels. Besides teaching the three years of required English they offered several elective courses.

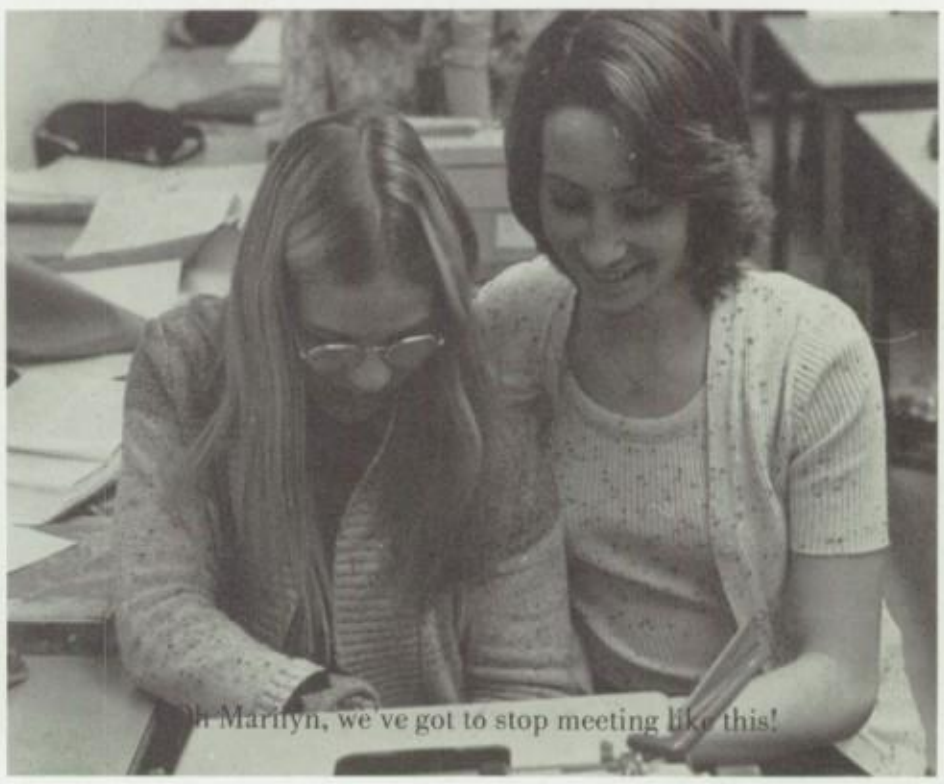
While freshmen finished up on the basics of sentence structure, sophomores expanded on this. Juniors read Shakespeare's Hamlet along with continuing in grammar. Seniors however, have the option of taking Journalism, Speech, Media, or one of many other courses.

After seeing all the hard work our English teachers do, we really can appreciate them.

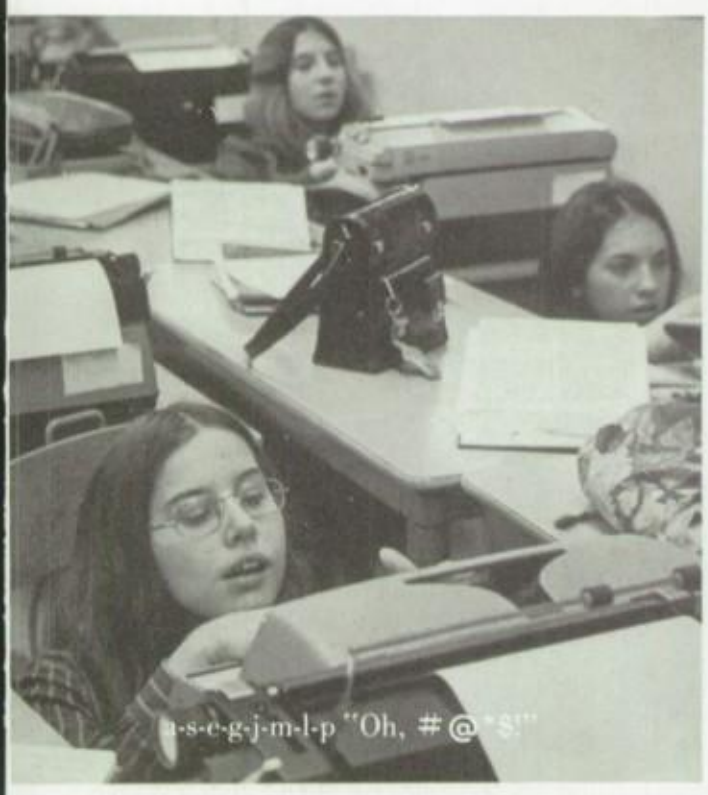




As she compliments Jim on his work, he modestly says, "I know, I know."



Oh Marilyn, we've got to stop meeting like this!



s-e-g-j-m-l-p "Oh, #@*$!"

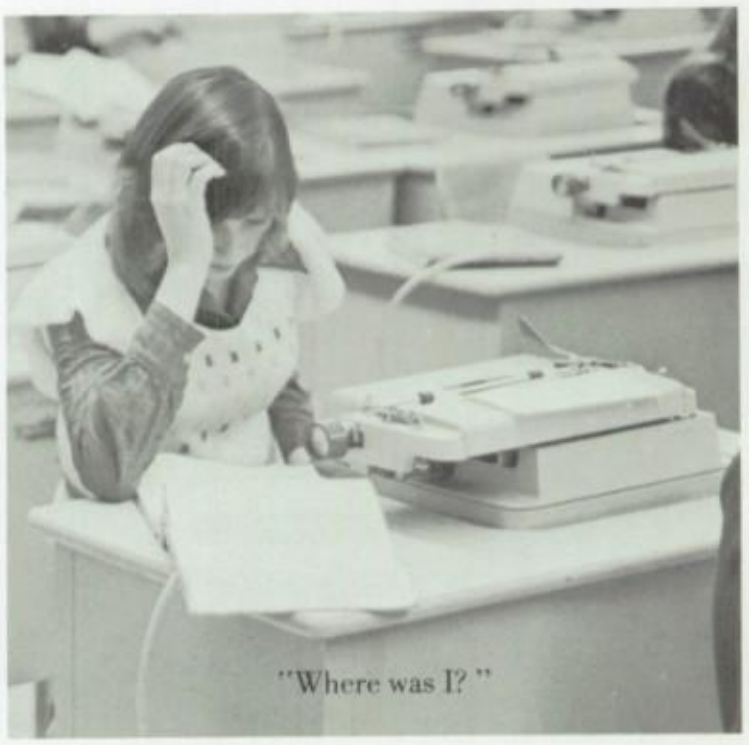
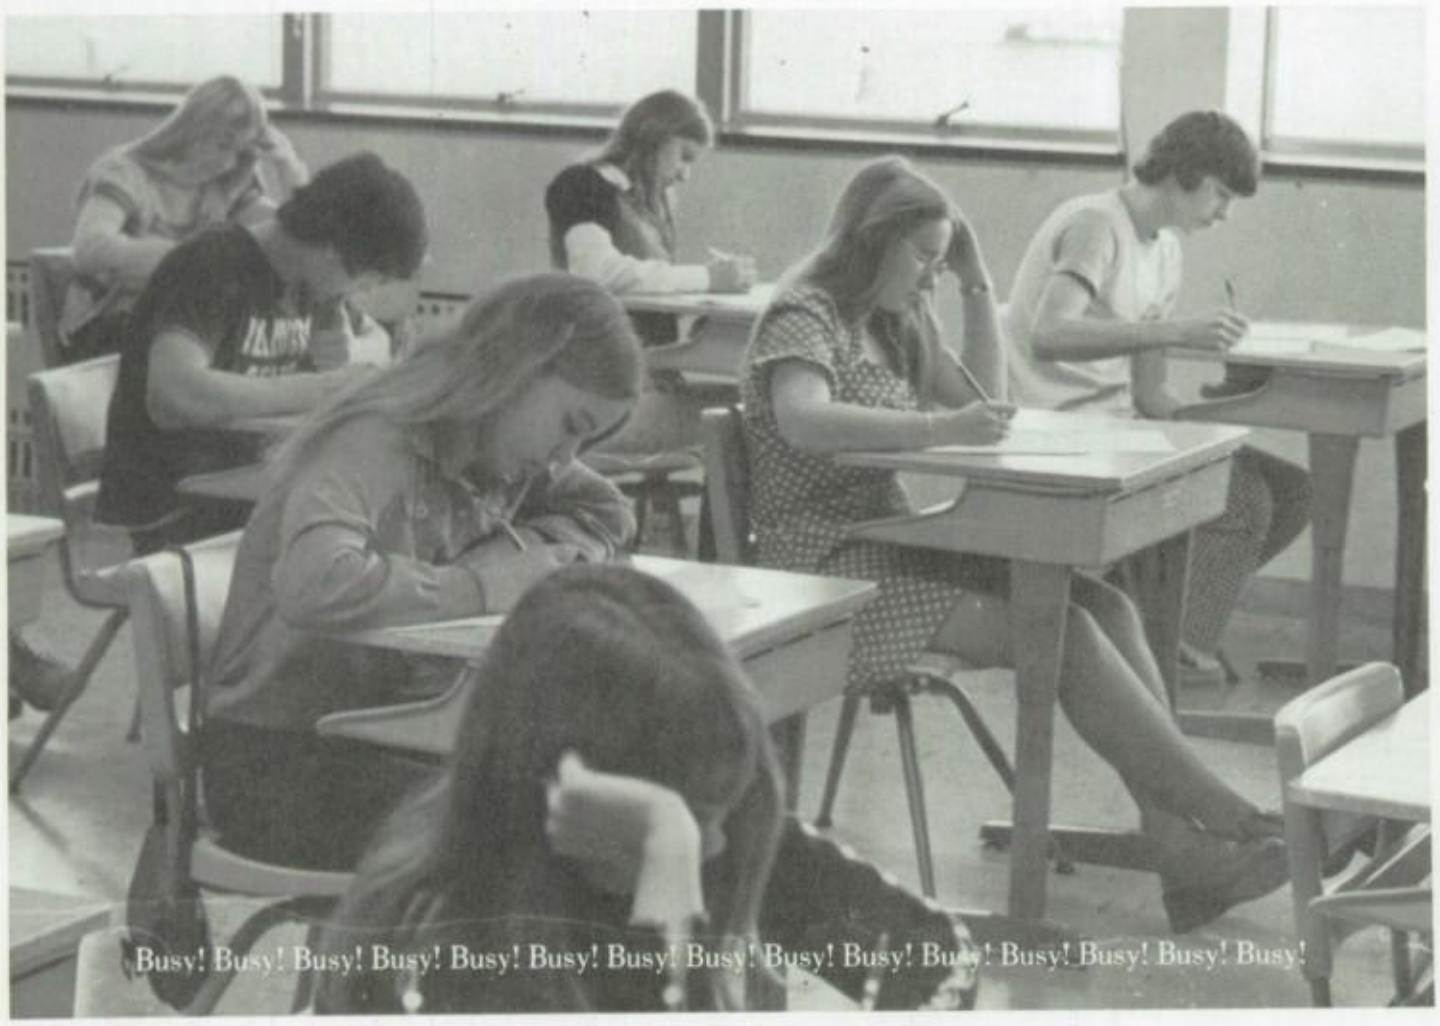
Who are these masked phantoms?

"The Job Is Never Finished

And they say there's a paper shortage.



"Where was I?"



Busy! Busy! Busy! Busy! Busy! Busy! Busy! Busy! Busy! Busy! Busy! Busy! Busy! Busy! Busy!

"*!! another mistake!" This is a common phrase that can be heard ringing through the halls of C building on any ordinary school day. Advancing their skills to perfection is the aim of many future secretaries who are taking these challenging classes. "The job is never finished 'til the paper work is done."

Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country.

Dear Sir: Regarding your letter, . . .

What's the matter Jill, ribbon stuck?

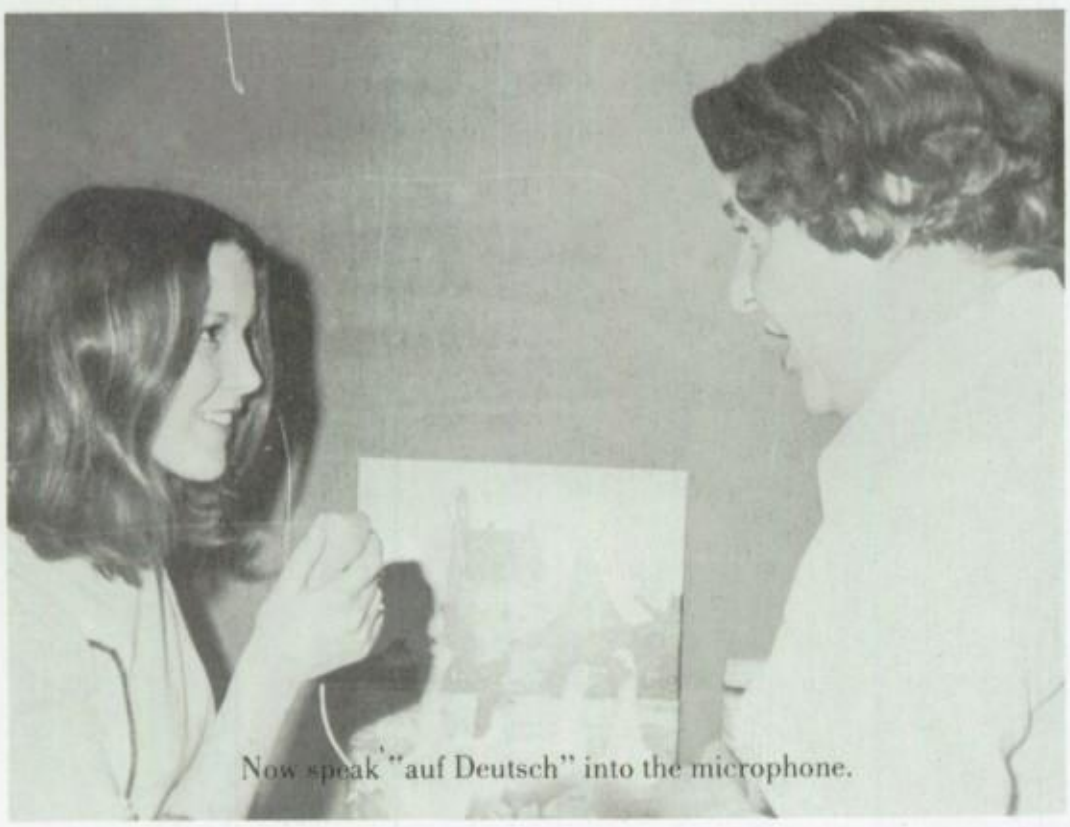
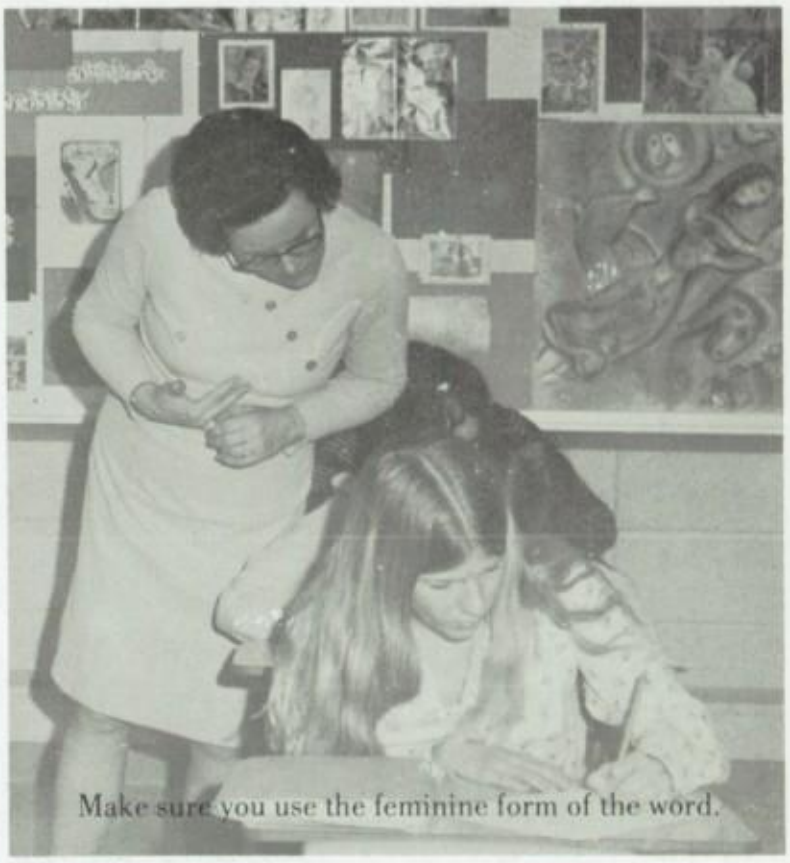
"Parlez-vous Deutsch!"

"Oh no! France is much farther away than that!"

"Look! Zürich was founded in 1351."



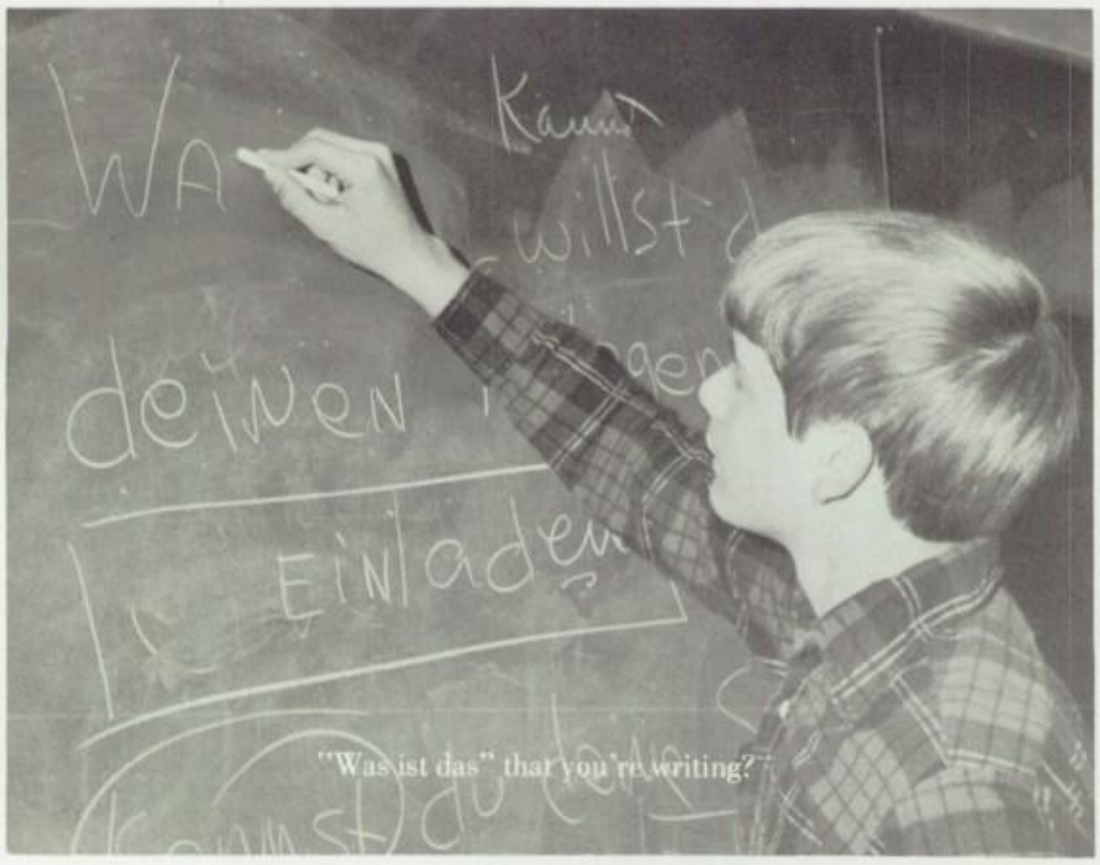
Now speak "auf Deutsch" into the microphone.



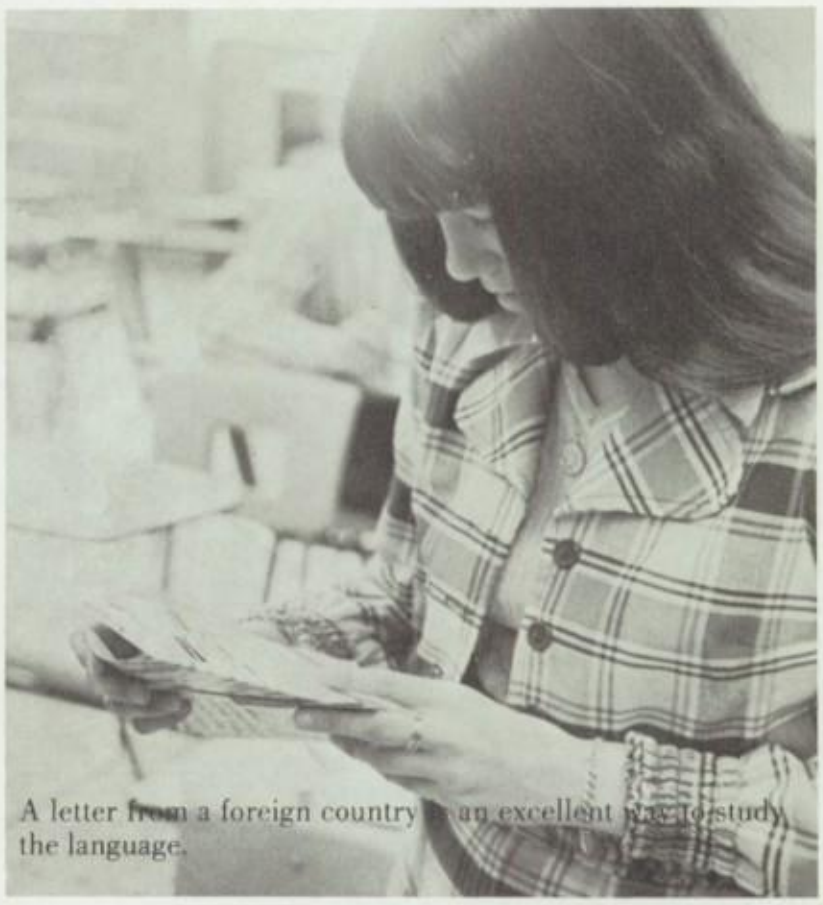
Make sure you use the feminine form of the word.

Sometimes German translations are done in a group effort.

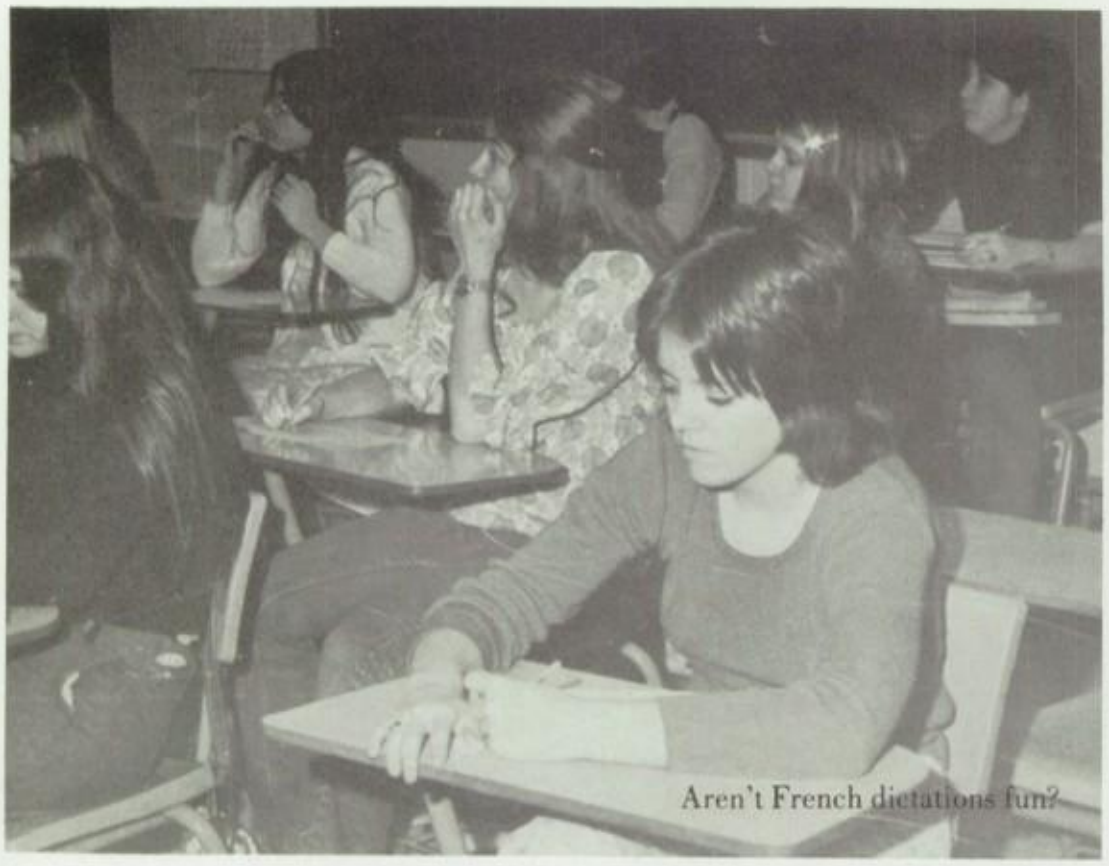
While some students are busy writing, others use the headphones to perfect speaking the language and improve on the listening comprehension.



"Was ist das" that you're writing?



A letter from a foreign country is an excellent way to study the language.



Aren't French dictations fun?

Frau Johnson and fourth year German students look at post cards and pictures from Germany.

French, like all foreign languages, requires much study and teacher assistance.

The study of foreign languages continues to attract many students.

French was again divided into four years as was German. Latin, however, was still a two-year course. First year students were introduced to basic vocabulary and grammar. Second year classes built on vocabulary and sentence structure. Third and fourth year students began speaking the language fluently and grammar study continued.

With the rate of student interest being so responsive, the language department can look forward to success in the future.

Camp Outs, and Candy Sales

The special education classes now have a broad basis of experience from which to draw ideas to effectively continue the program. The students experience a wide variety of academic, vocational and social stimuli. Academic experiences include individual instruction, group dynamics and the opportunity to choose various courses of study. Vocationally, the students begin working as freshmen within the school. Then, based upon performance they work part time in the community; which is followed by full time community placement as seniors. Socially, the students take part in various activities here at school, as well as going on a three day field trip each spring.

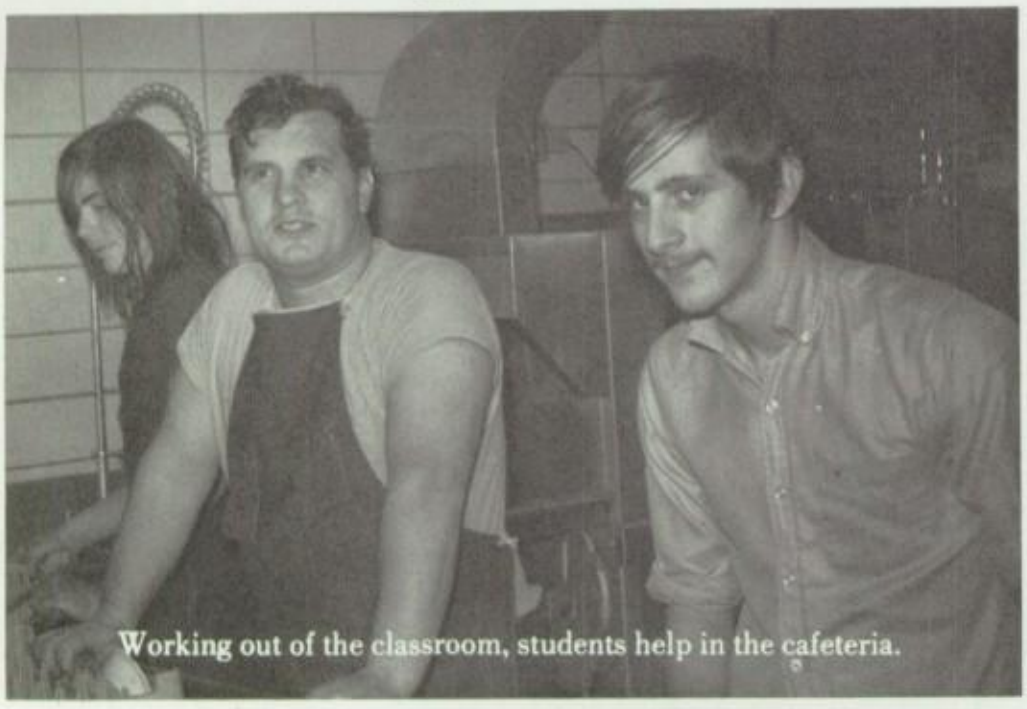
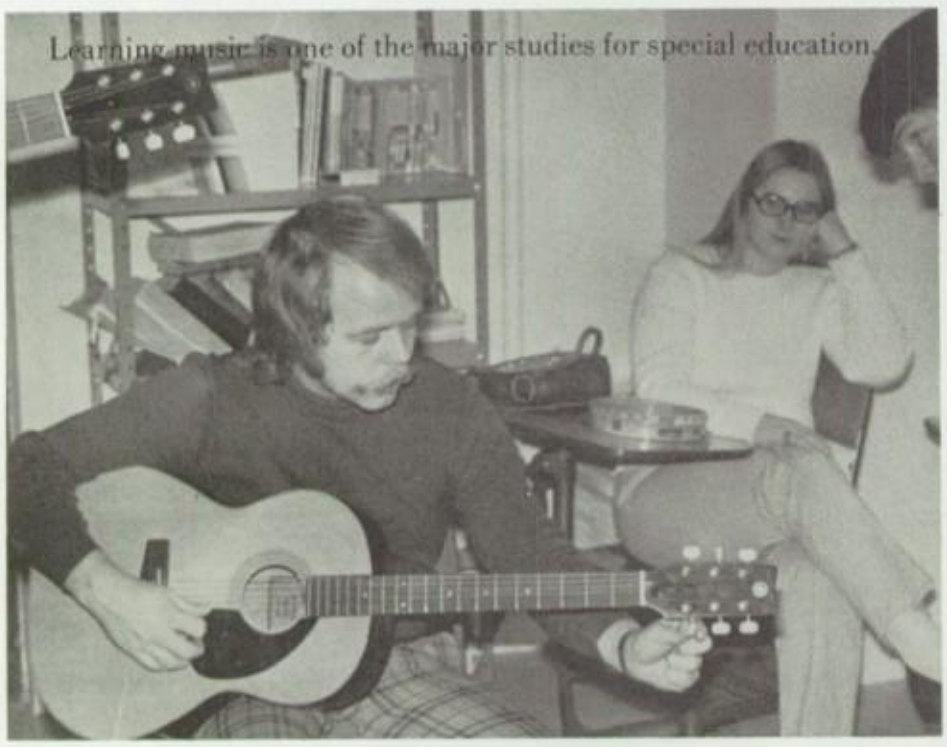
STUDIES! STUDIES! STUDIES!

Studies, Music,

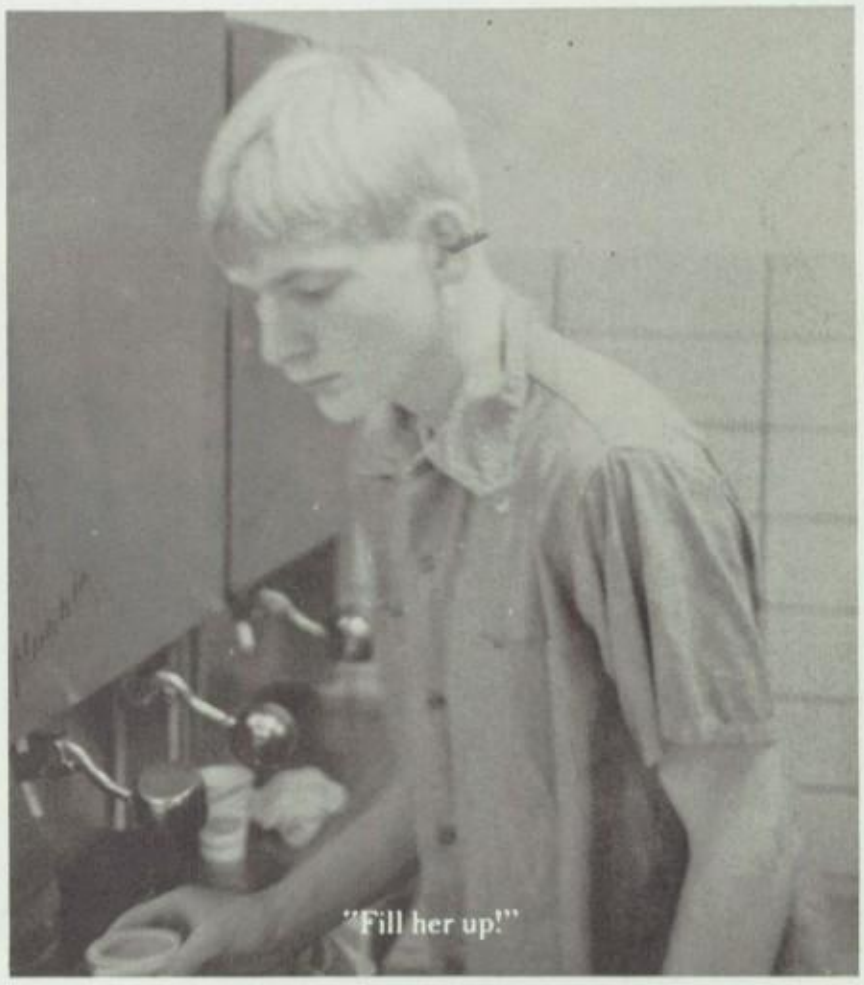


Working out of the classroom, students help in the cafeteria.

"What do they think they're doing over there?"

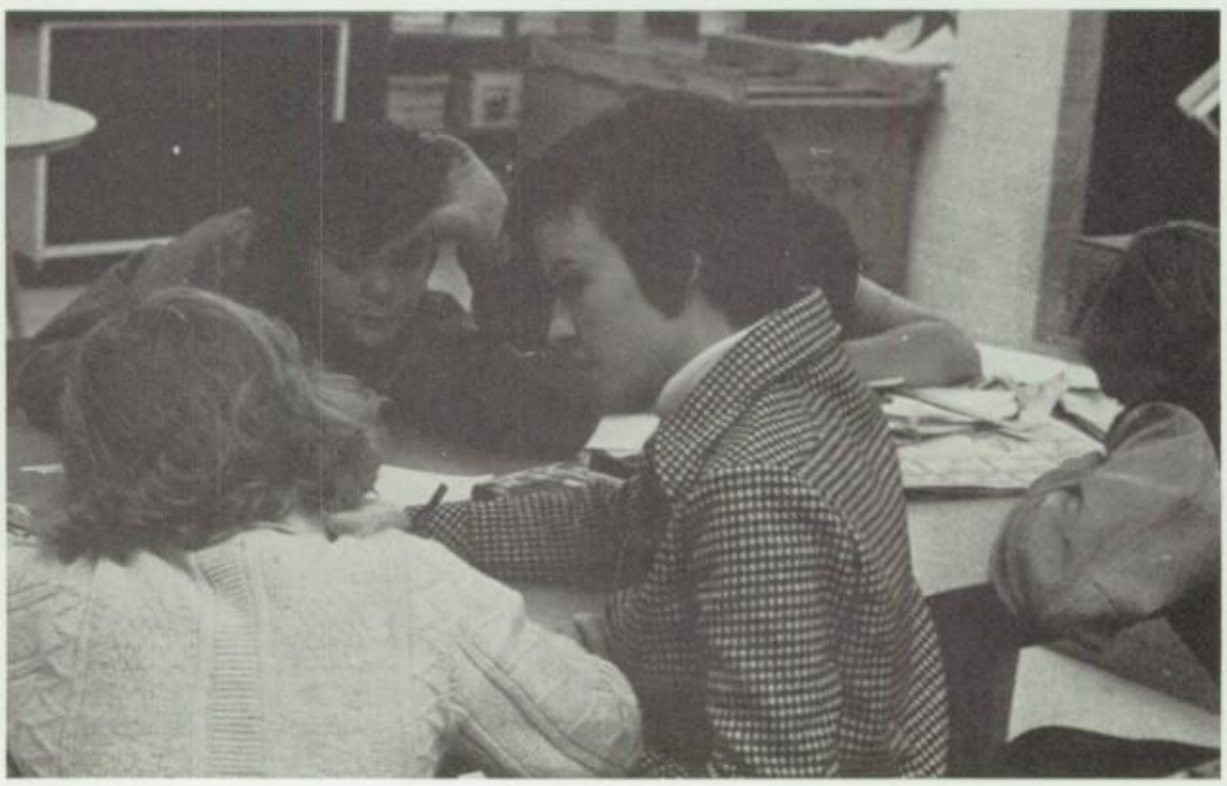


Learning music is one of the major studies for special education.



"Fill her up!"

Mr. Stone helps a student out when he's puzzled.



Teachers work on a personal basis with each student.

In an effort to entice students to read regularly, Reading Lab has presented an opportunity for those who are interested. For all freshmen English classes the Reading Lab is a must, but it's also available to all students who have free time. Using controlled readers, tape recorders and other devices, students are helped to improve their rate of reading, as well as their spelling, vocabulary and comprehension.

The instructor in the Reading Lab, Mr. Chiesi, strives to help students in their reading abilities.

WHAT? NO MUSIC?

"I wonder how her story ends?"

Just by turning a knob, the student can improve her rate of reading.

"Which one shall I read today?"

I never knew reading could be so interesting!

The Miracle

And then, from behind the door, came a shot!

"Commercials."

The story goes as follows . . .

"I can read it!"

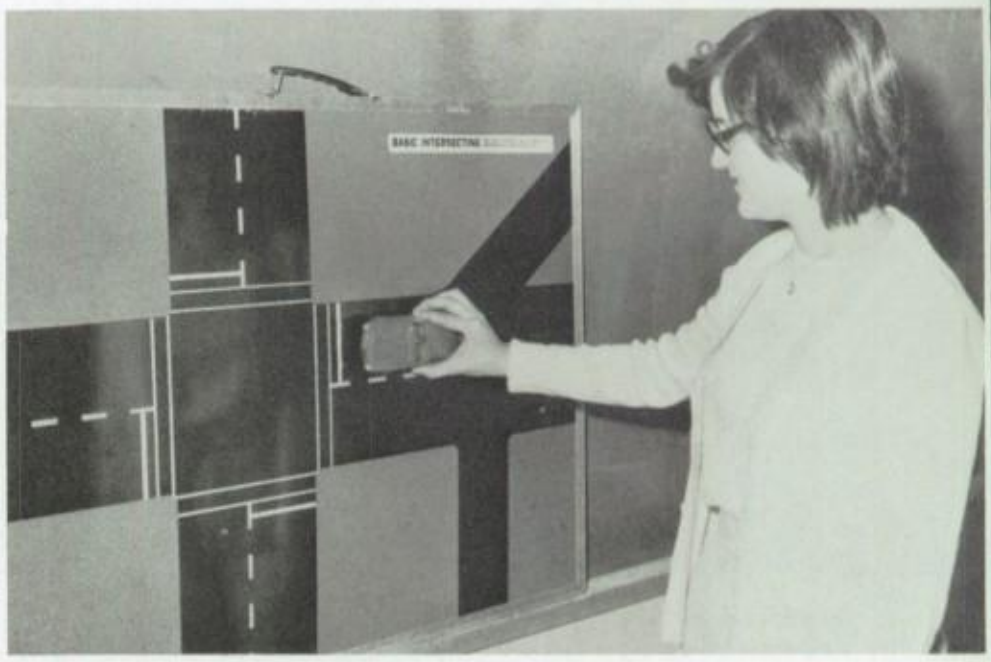
"Pilot to co-pilot . . . can you hear me?"

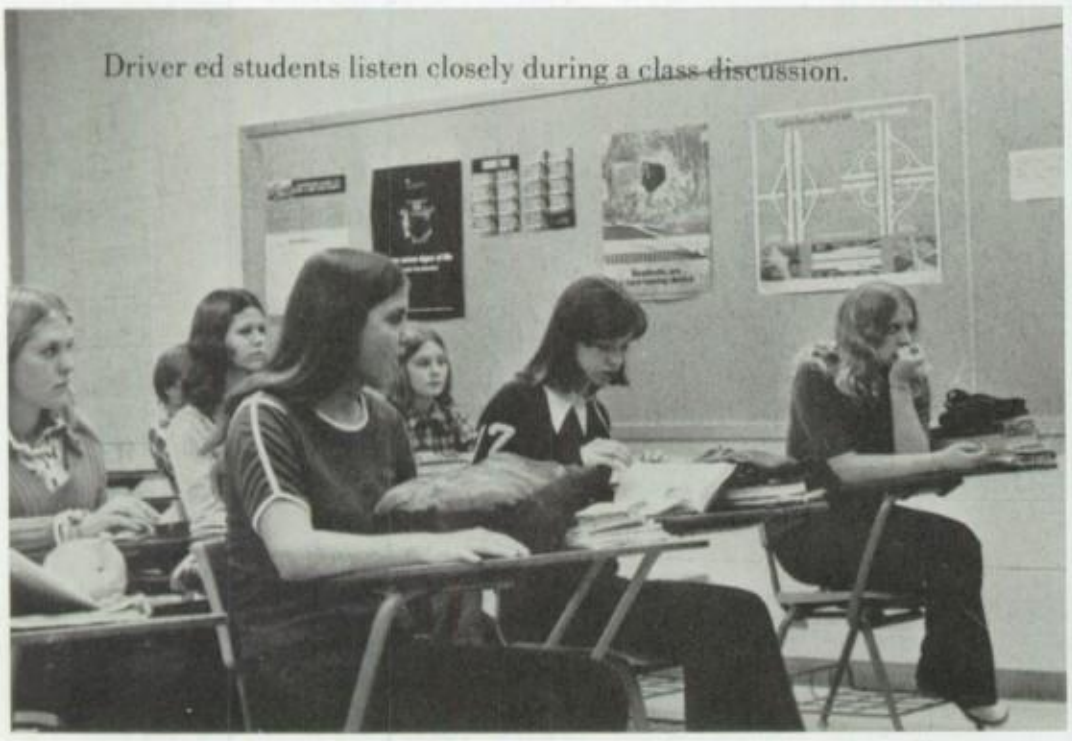
The answer is . . . C.

The No. 1 Book Everybody's Been Wanting to Read

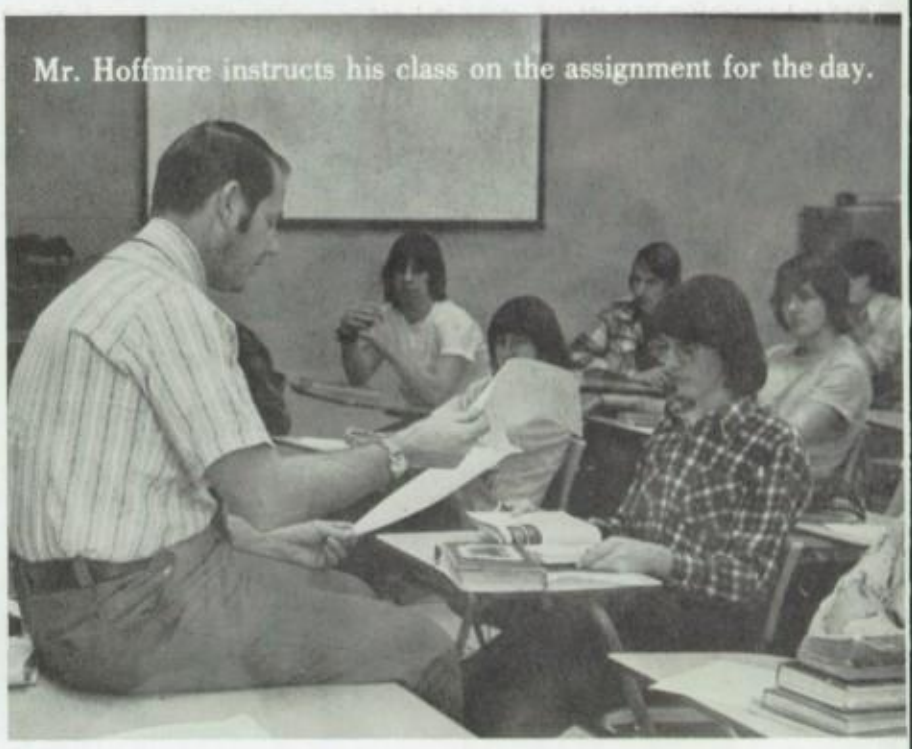
Getting their drivers license is the one ambition of all E.P. students. After nine weeks of "behind the book" and seeing "wonderful" movies, showing them what will happen if they don't drive right, each student gets a chance to display their talents during nine more weeks of "behind the wheel." Thus, accomplishing the ambition of all 16 year-olds.

Sue Tofanelli gives a demonstration on how to drive right.

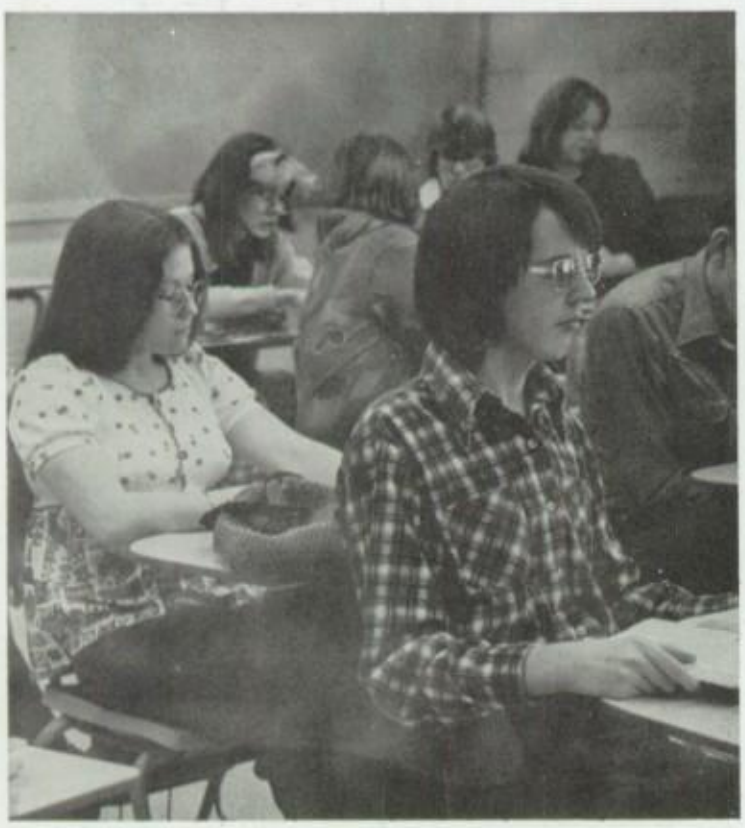




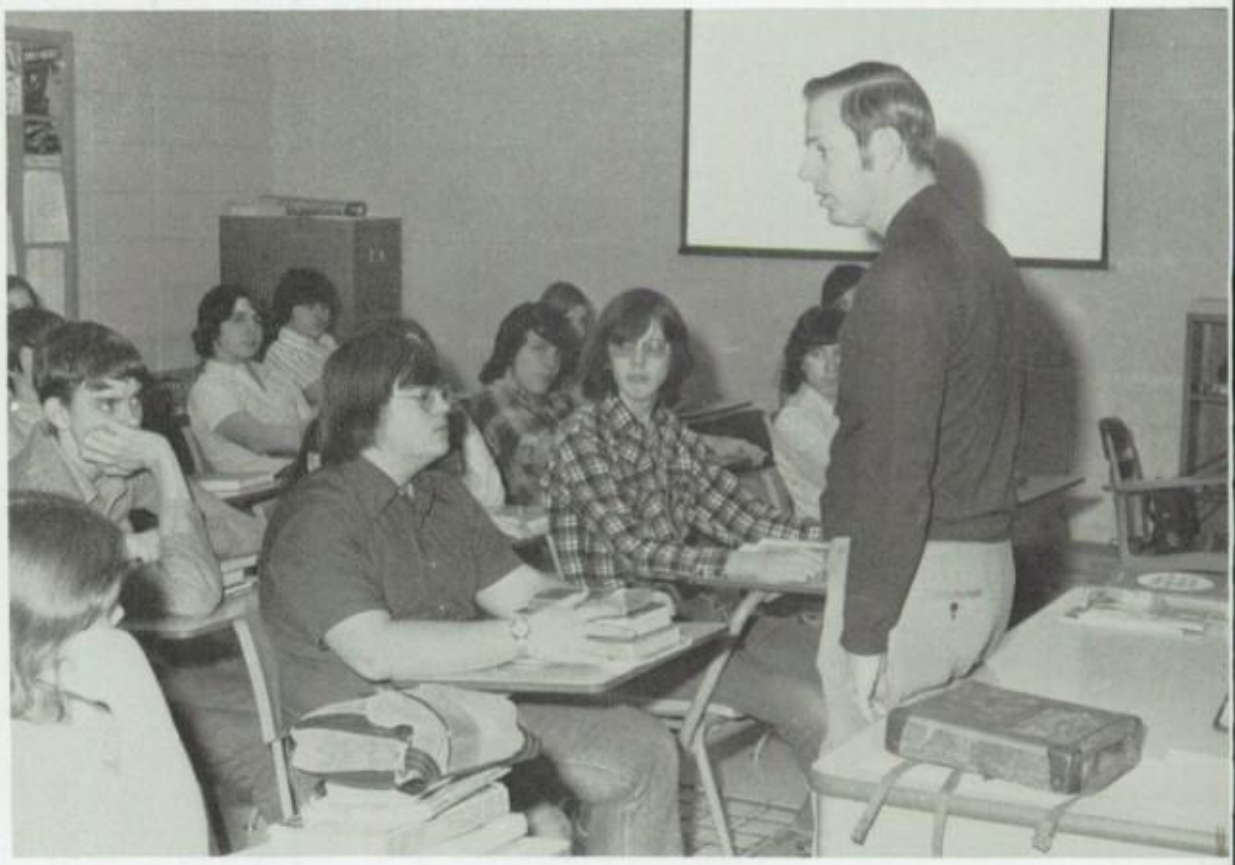
Driver ed students listen closely during a class discussion.



Mr. Hoffmire instructs his class on the assignment for the day.



Training the students to drive correctly, is the major objective of the drivers ed classes.



At the end of the course, students receive a last minute pep talk before they go take that big ride.

Will the Drivers Please Take

"If we're not back by nightfall, be sure to send the posse out."

"He told me to get in the car, but there is nothing back here.

Before the students partake on a dangerous mission, the teacher reads the last rites.

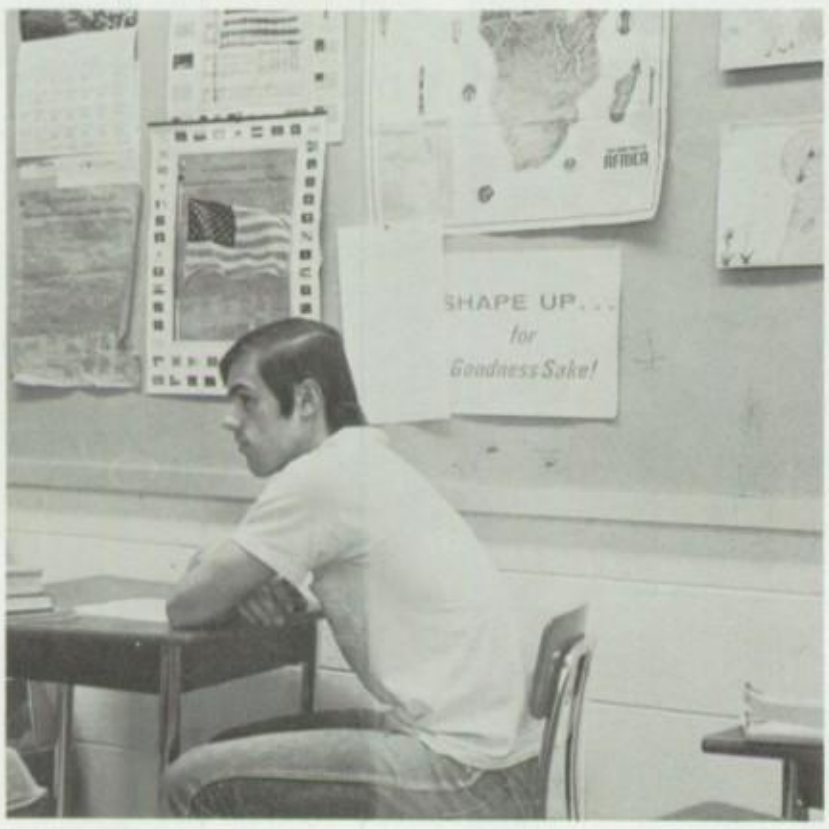
In driver's ed you don't put your shoulders to the wheel, just your hands.

"Mario Andretti, watch out, 'cause here I come!

Their Positions

Psychology is:

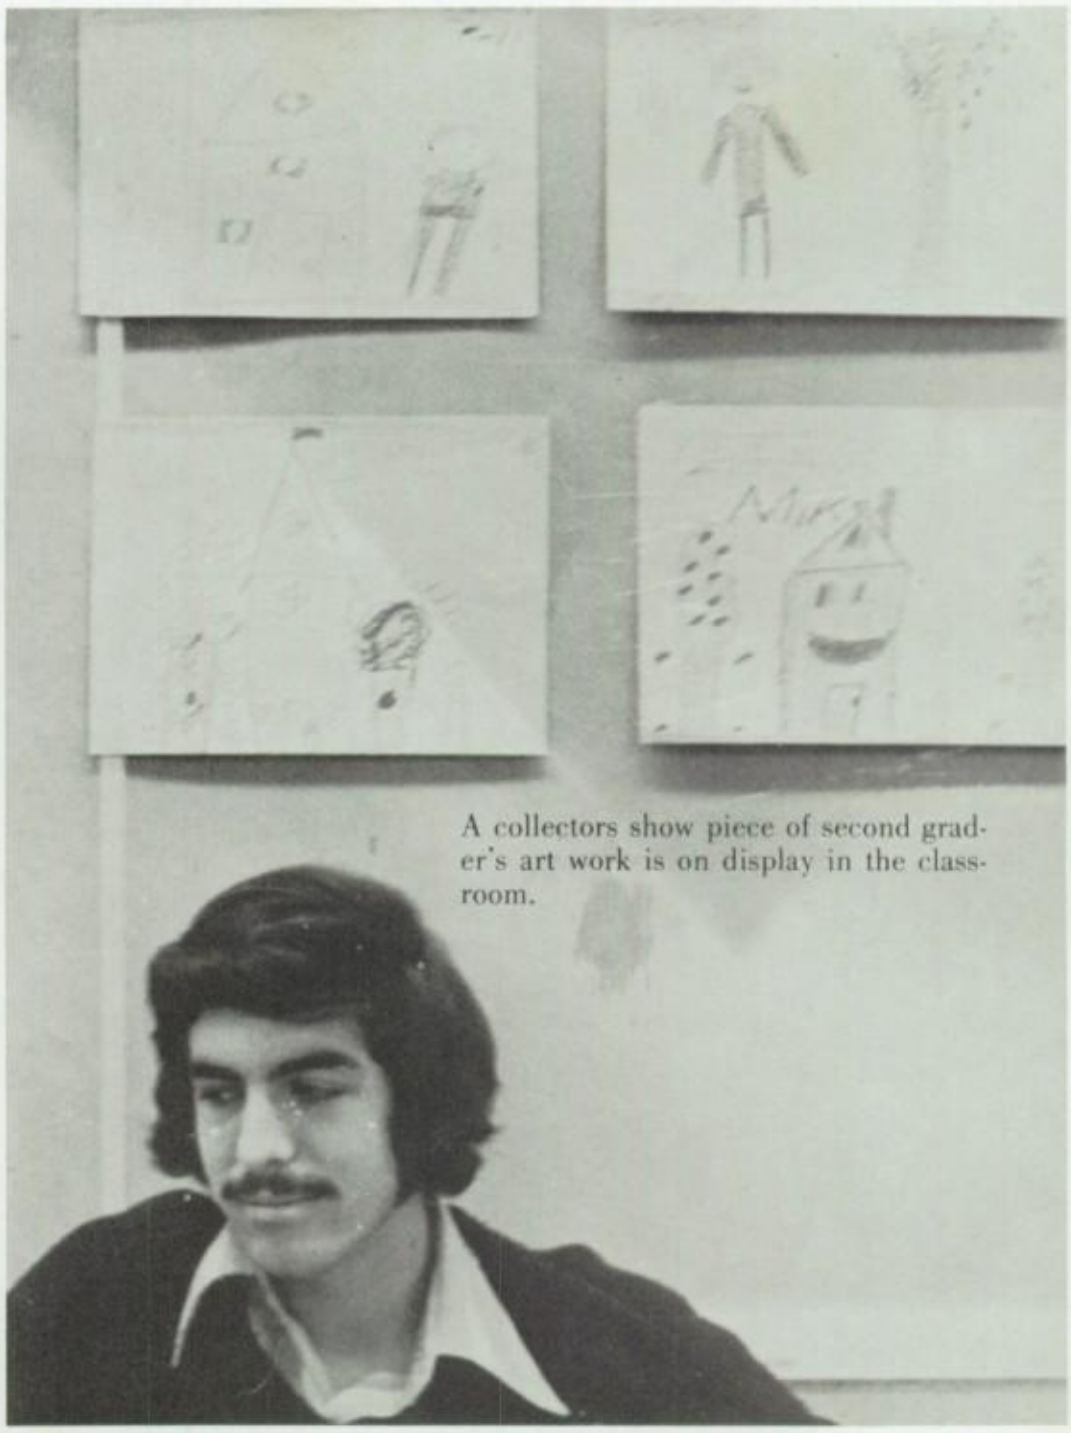
"Now what term was that?"



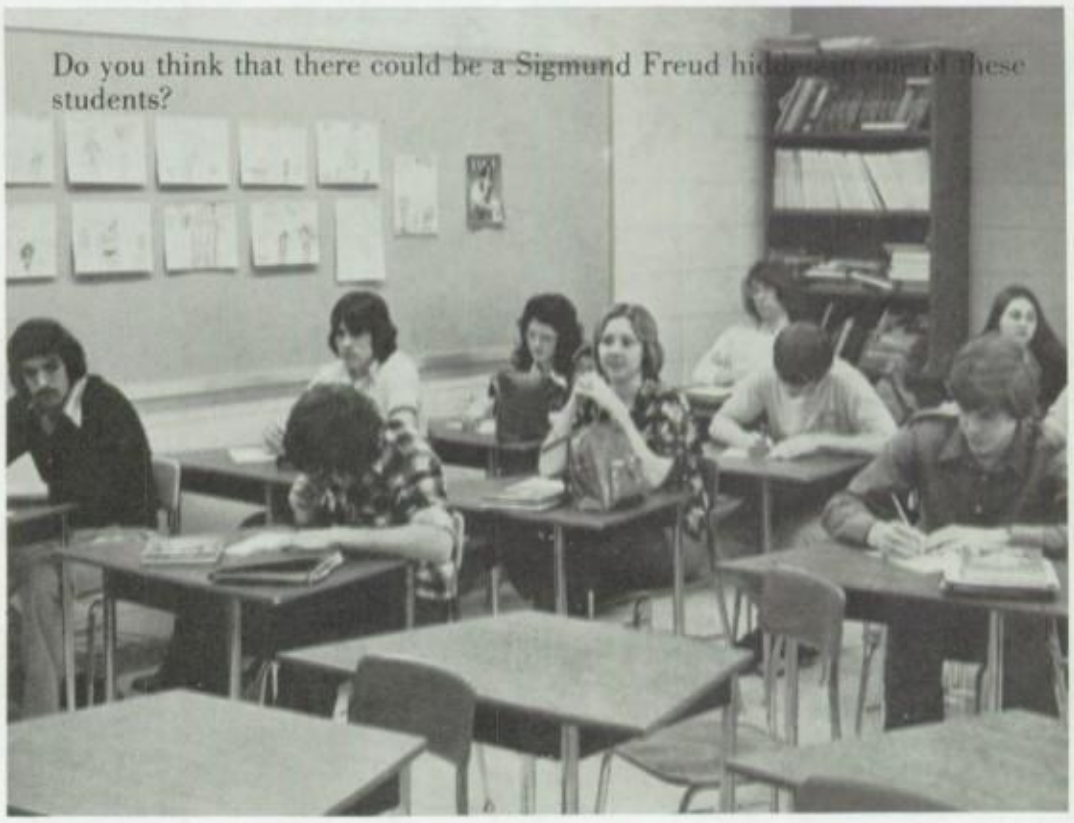
Concentration; That's the key word.

While probing deep into the minds of man, students participating in East Peoria's Psychology course find it interesting and often, quite surprising to finally know and understand why they do some of the things they do. Experiments prove themselves to be both informative and entertaining, as data is gathered for the various reports throughout the semester.

So, with intriguing ideas and facts being poured into these students, don't be too alarmed the next time you hear someone yelling in the hall, "We're psyched alright, alright, alright . . ."



A collectors show piece of second grader's art work is on display in the classroom.



Do you think that there could be a Sigmund Freud hidden among these students?

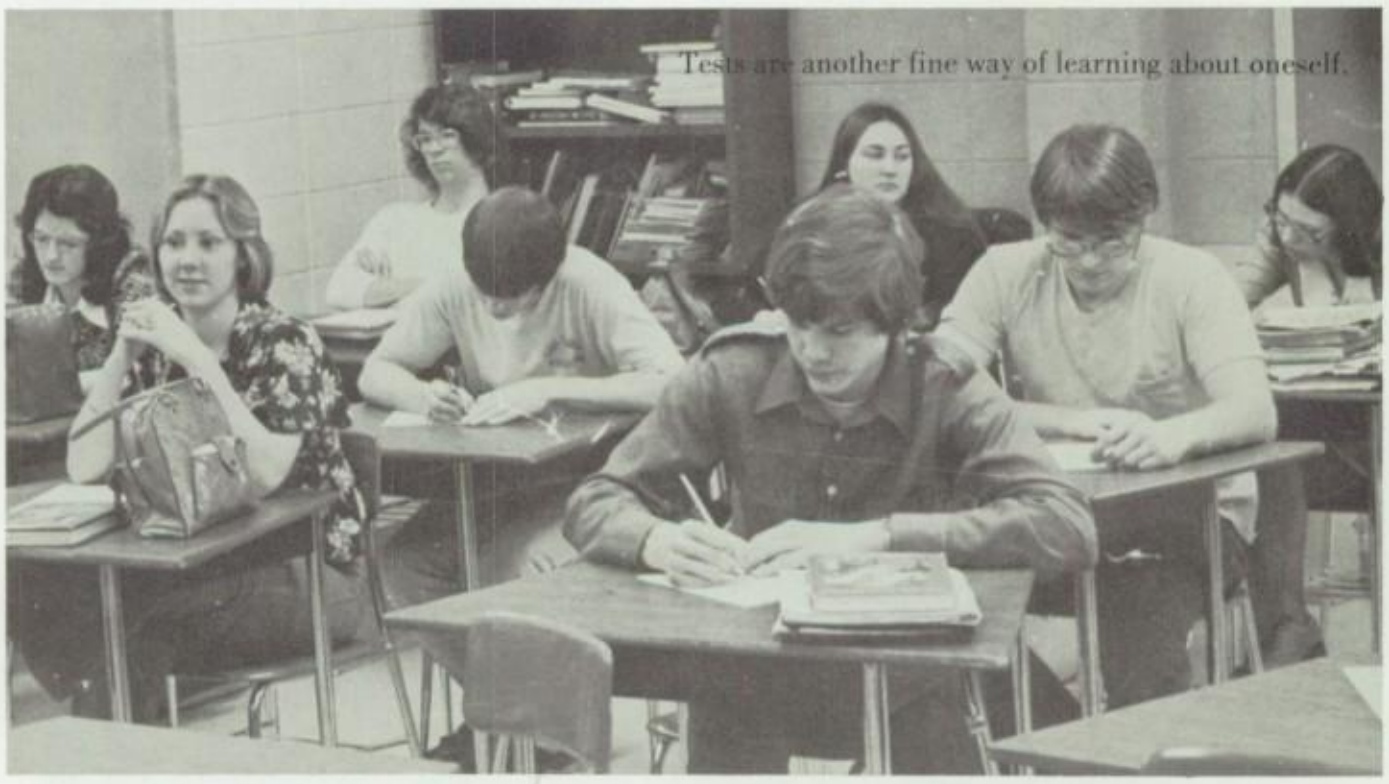
happiness and peace of mind.

Pondering on a serious question or just analyzing the class?

"See that house up there? That's mine."

What do you see in these pictures? Is the child that drew them under pressure?

Is he happy? How old is the child?



Tests are another fine way of learning about oneself.

Always think about the question before answering. Try to avoid quick answers.

"Involvement" Sums up the Juniors' Year

Experiencing what many call their "funiest" year, the class of "76" learn what it's like to be an upperclassman. While looking forward to being Seniors and graduated, the Juniors find that the school year went much faster than anticipated earlier.

EP's Exceptional Seniors

After four years of much hard work and a little goofing off, the graduating class of 1975 has seen change and development come about in their lives. Reaching higher goals and setting new records has helped in the growth of our school and community.

As another full year comes to a close, a big thanks goes out to all the different types of kids that make high school what it is.

Smiling proudly, Kevin Randall and Kris McGlothlin receive congratulations from Mr. Jenkins.

She Was in Love With Life

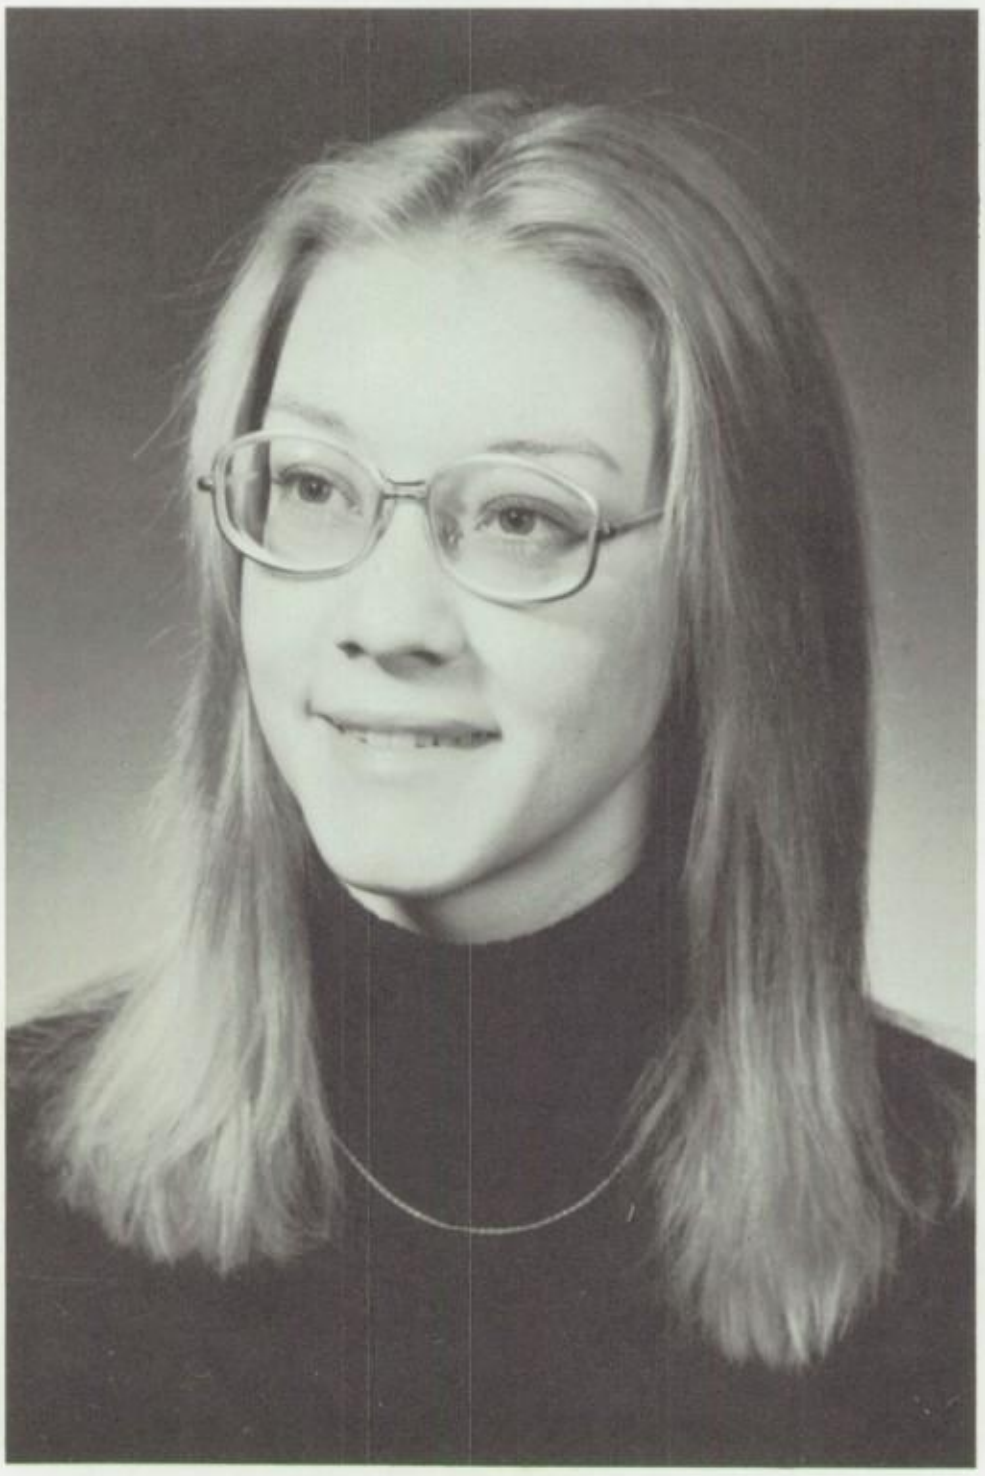
"As my French teacher, she wasn't just a tyrant driving stuff into our heads. She was a friend. She didn't treat us just as students she had to teach, she treated us all as important individuals and we all respected her. She was a beautiful person, inside and out . . ."

"She was the life of the school. Everyone looked forward to her class. Even though the work was hard, she made it seem easy. . . ."

"You don't really know what you feel about a person until she is gone. You must have been very understanding parents to have had a daughter turn out so full of warmth and kindness . . ."

"She was different than most teachers she cared about her students before, during, and after school. She was a human being first and a teacher second . . ."

"Although sometimes she lost her patience with us, she was over it the day after. The one exciting thing we had each day was coming into her class because you never knew what to expect . . ."



"She wasn't just a teacher, she was my friend. I only wish she could have lived to hear me tell her so. Miss Nosek always urged me on in French, she knew I enjoyed it, and I do. I wish she could have known that I wanted to be a French teacher. Just because she's dead doesn't mean I'm going to change my ambitions. She wouldn't have wanted that. No, I'm going to go on and make her proud of me. She didn't like quitters and I'm not going to be one. I'll always remember Miss Nosek not by her death, but by her living. She was in love with life, and that was one of the virtues we all admired about her. I'll remember her by her stories, jokes, and most of all, her gusto for life. She made the most of her 22 years and I only hope that when I die, I'll have lived as full and happy of life as she did . . ."

Administration, and Deans

Russell J. Moore
Superintendant

Working as a team, our deans, counselors, and administrators work together to keep the school running smoothly.

Although disciplining is not one of the most popular jobs, the deans here at EPCHS fulfill their duties to the utmost degree.

The counselors who occupy Student Services find their job no dull experience. Their tasks range from scheduling classes to convincing students to finish a full four years of high school.

Solving the problems of East Peoria High School the administrators work diligently everyday watching the moves and listening to the desires of the student body.

From the first day of Mrs. Babcock's career in 1950, she has served 535 to the present amoung of 2200 at one time. She recalls the first pie fight about 10 years ago. Even though the students complain, they are getting better lunches and more varieties of food.

Cooking meals for more than 2000 hungry animals, the dieticians at EPCHS do a good job of it. Box lunch students enjoy a variety of sandwiches, while those who prefer a hot lunch enjoy everything from tacos to apple pie!

Mrs. Babcock will surely be missed here at EPCHS, for serving us 27 years of delicious lunches.

A sandwich and a milk; that will be 40¢.

What shall we fix today?

Assisting the superintendent, counselors, deans and many others, the school secretaries often go unpraised. Also doing various odd jobs for teachers, our secretaries have a big part in keeping our school running smoothly.

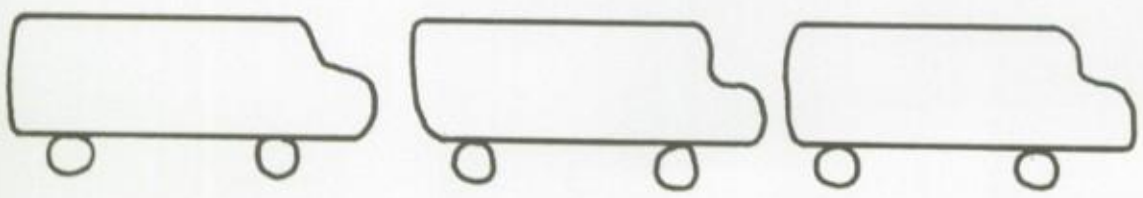
Oh boy, here they come!!



A moment of silence before school's out.

How many times have you seen an EPCHS bus with a dented fender or a smashed-up bumper? Not too often! And do you know why? Because we have a very careful and dedicated staff of Bus Drivers. So many times we forget that without them, we couldn't go to away games or on field trips. So let's give a big thanks to our men of the roads. "The students who usually ride bus number 11 will now be riding bus number 3. The students who usually ride bus number 7 . . ."

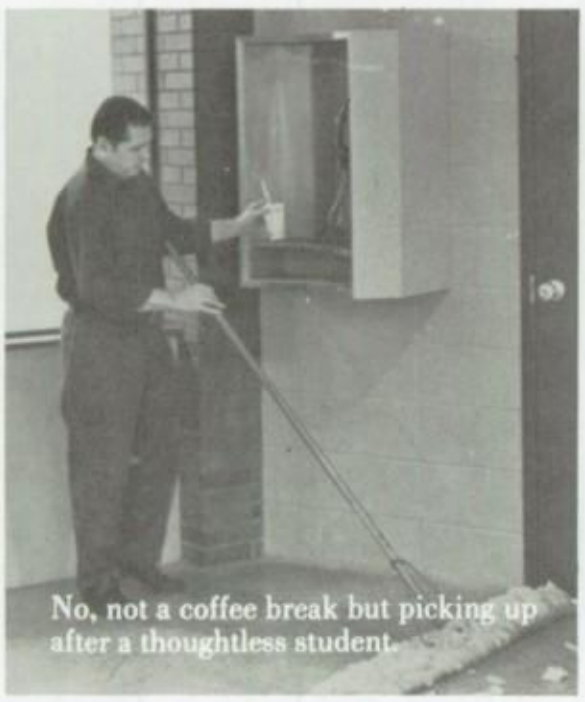
Mr. Cleans of EPCHS

Keeping the halls "spic-n-span," the janitors of E.P.C.H.S. are kept busy picking up after the many messy students here at school. Think what shape our buildings would be in if it weren't for this group of hard-working men.

Ron Smith, Mike Shaver, Clifton Burton, George Kelch. Row 2: George Schneider, Floyd Moreland, Bernie Maston, Billy Riner. Row 3: Jack Stevens, Fred Rosenbush, Lawrence Kerby.

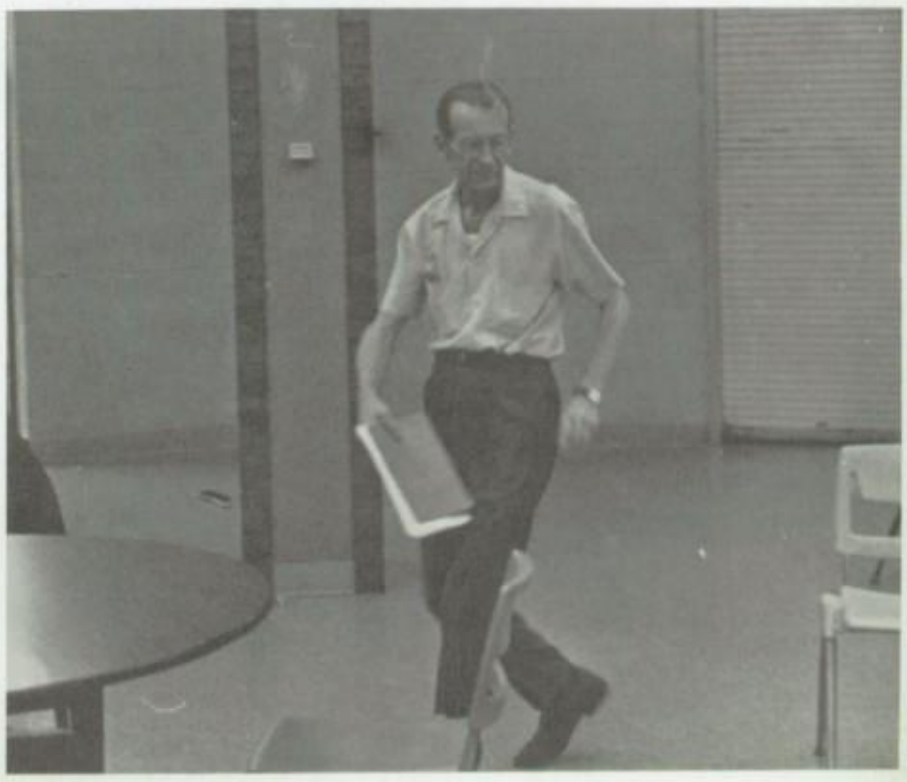
Mike Shaver sweeps up after a cocoanut pie fight.

Cleaning up after messy students isn't the only purpose of the maintenance men.



No, not a coffee break but picking up after a thoughtless student.

Bernie Masten puts the cafeteria in order for the next day.



Looks like someone lost a notebook.

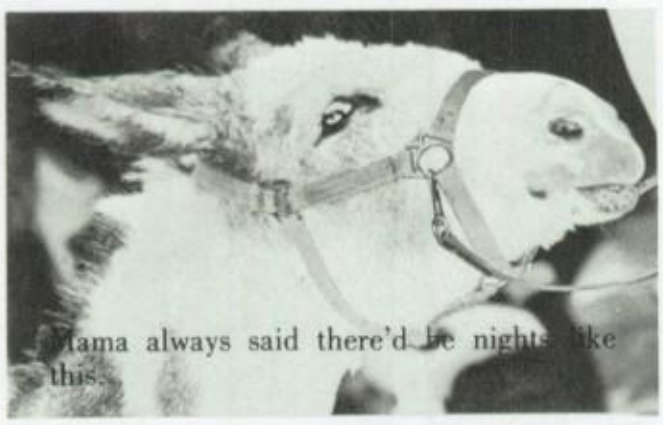
Teachers—24 Beat . . .

Getting ready to ride off in the sunset this mysterious rider searches for the exit.

Young man! I told you quit diving under those donkeys. Now go to your room.

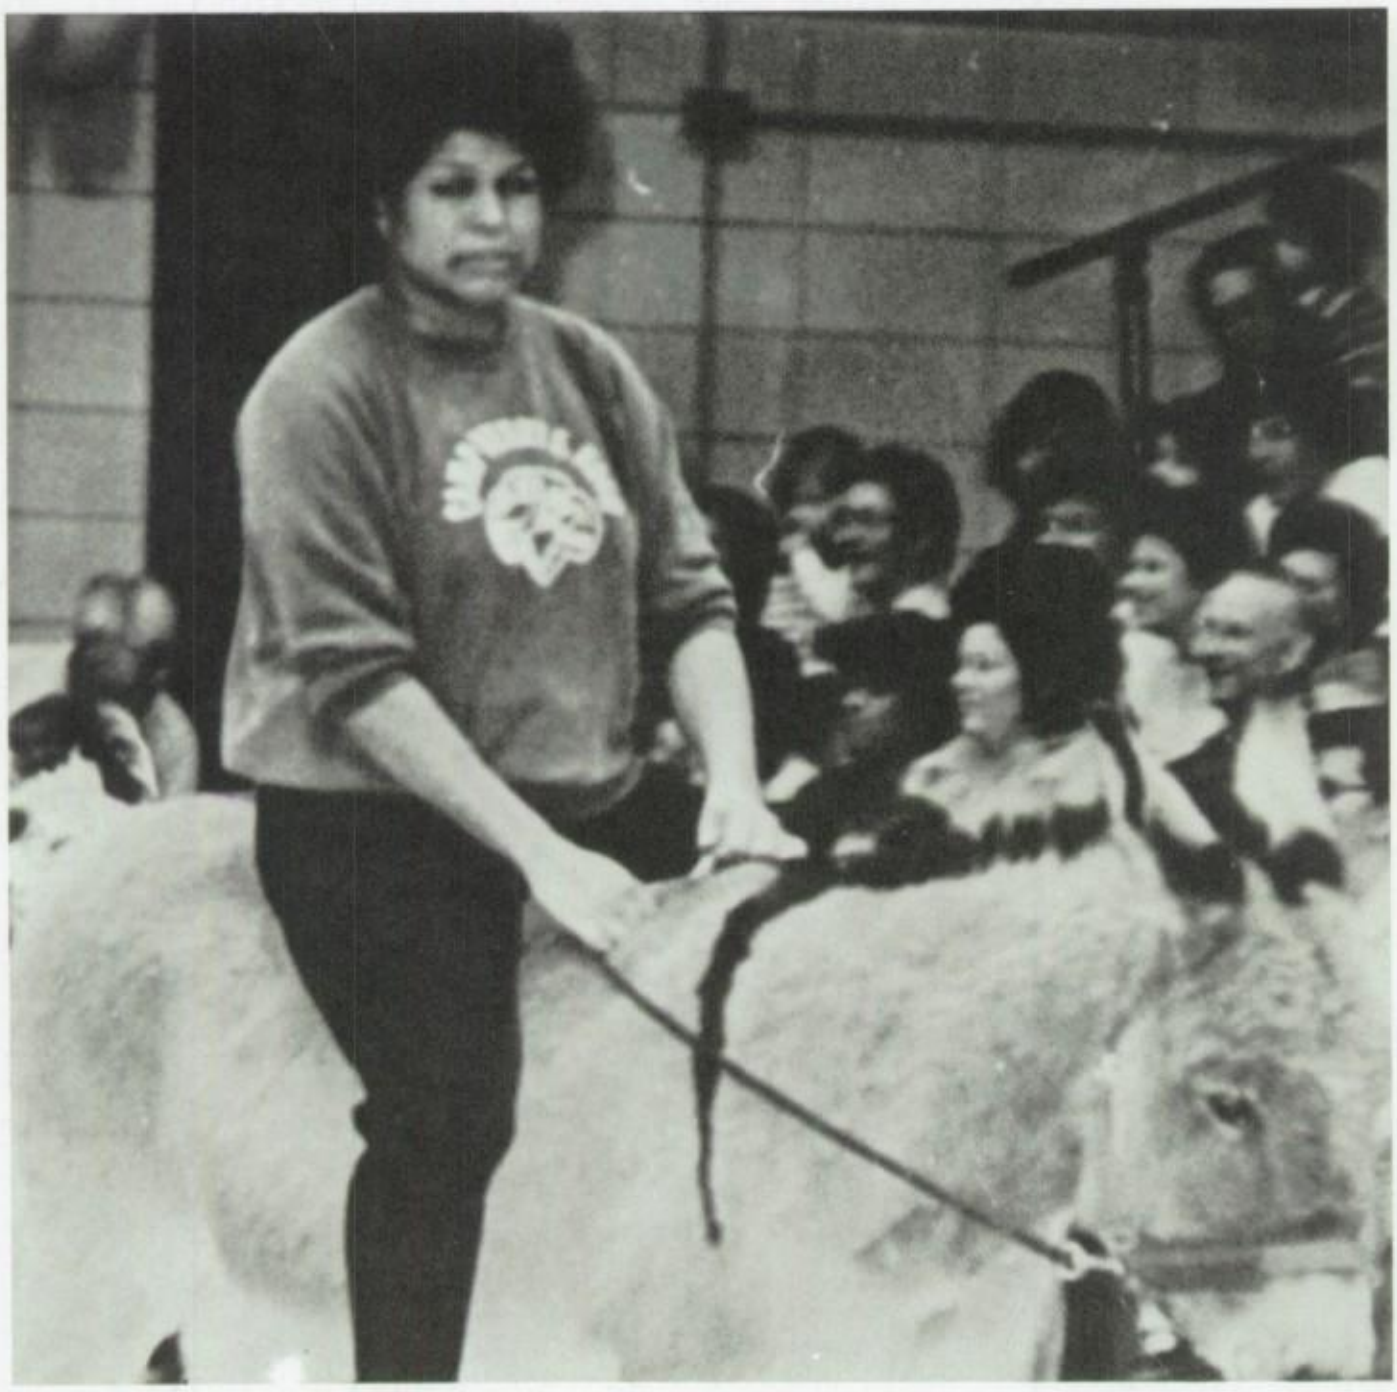


Mama always said there'd be nights like this.

If you happen to be walking by the boys gym, at East Peoria High School, on the night of April 11, and you heard a few strange sounds, you could be certain of one thing, somebody or someone was sure kicking up a storm inside. As a matter of fact, there was a barn-bustin' donkey of a basketball game going on inside.

The donkeys returned to EPCHS this year with a bigger, wilder, and better show than ever. The donkeys were just as stubborn as always and an added addition of a show consisting of various dog stunts made up the half-time show.

The riders of these beasts of burden were the faculty riding against the seniors. Showing that the faculty members were full of spirit, was a cheerleading squad composed mainly of young minded faculty members.



Wait till I get hold of that photographer. His you know what is gonna hurt worse than mine.

Gee-whillikers! I haven't had this much fun for a long time.

Oh Goshens! Isn't that the funniest thing ya ever saw.

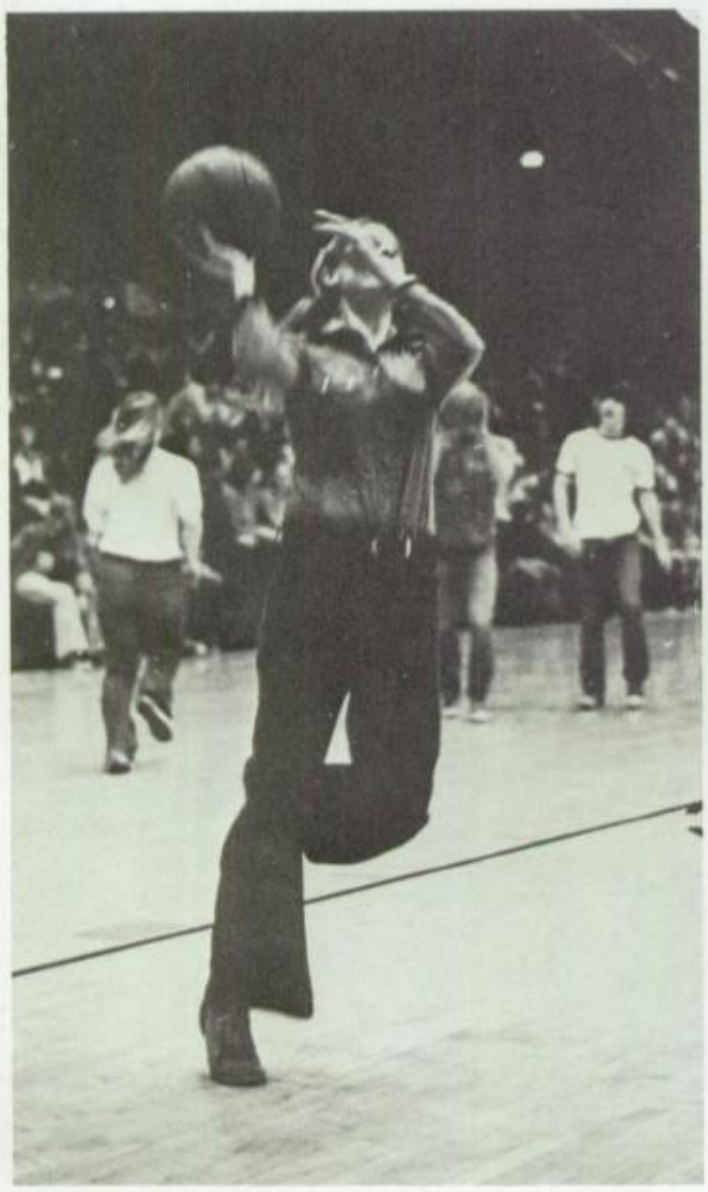
. . . Seniors—20

Some of the game action consisted of a daredevil ride, made by Mrs. Dominquez. She wore out her donkey so much that he had to lay down and take a third quarter stretch. Thinking she could be of assistance, Miss Jones used her athletic skills and tried to coax the donkey to its feet with delicious carrots. Meanwhile Mrs. Dominquez found a replacement, and made a dashing comeback on the back of a llama.

The seniors were defeated with a score of 20-24. The total money collected was divided equally and contributed to charity.

Before they mount their speedy transports, these seniors line up for the big showdown.

Kneeling before the Senior team, Mr. Hendryx pleads for mercy for the faculty team.



During warm-ups, Kim Beasley practiced her lay-up shots for the senior team.

Even though things weren't looking up for the seniors, they still held their chins high.

Yummy, Yummy, Yummy, I got ice-cream in my tummy.

Cushy, Cushy Comfort

While looking back over your years in high school, you will recall the good times and bad times that you have shared with close friends. Spilling your 7up all over your lap on your first night with that special guy, winning that all important volleyball or baseball game, getting a second division rating at contest when you know you deserved a first, a special bus trip with someone you really like, working hard on a float to have it rain on homecoming day, working on concessions to raise money for a field trip, dropping your music at a formal concert, tripping down the hall in front of a bunch of guys; all of these will be implanted in your memory forever. These experiences will soon be replaced by new ones. Your future will provide you with new ideas, new memories, and new friends.

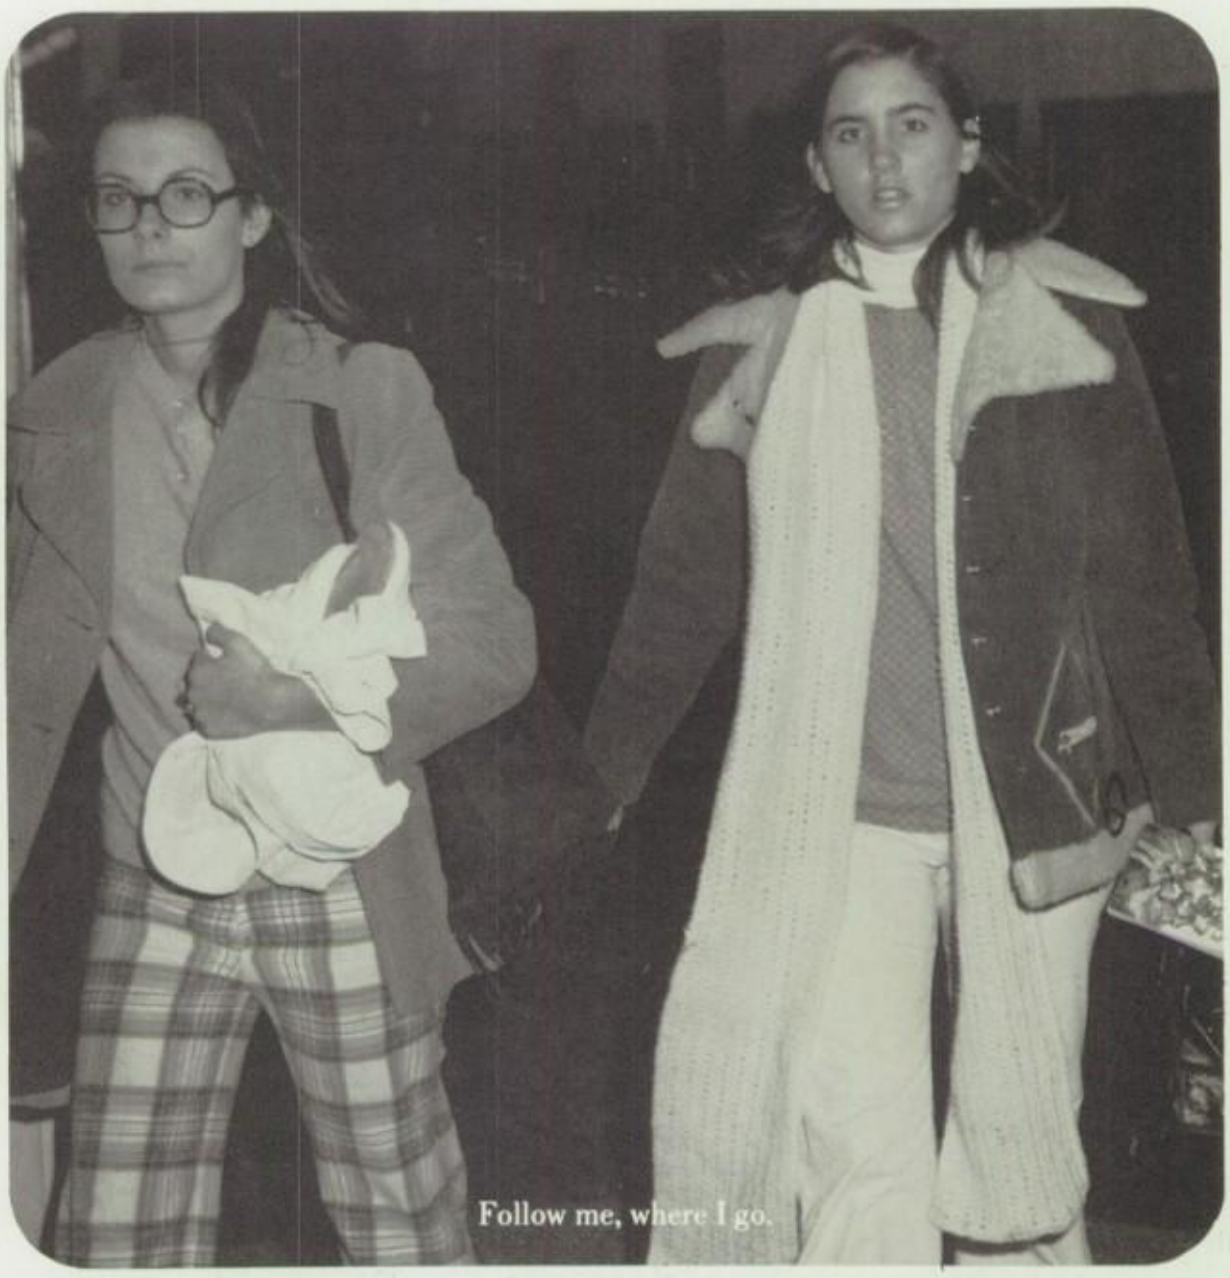
Summerbreeze makes me feel fine.

Listen children to a story that was written long ago.

Sing a Song of Tomorrow

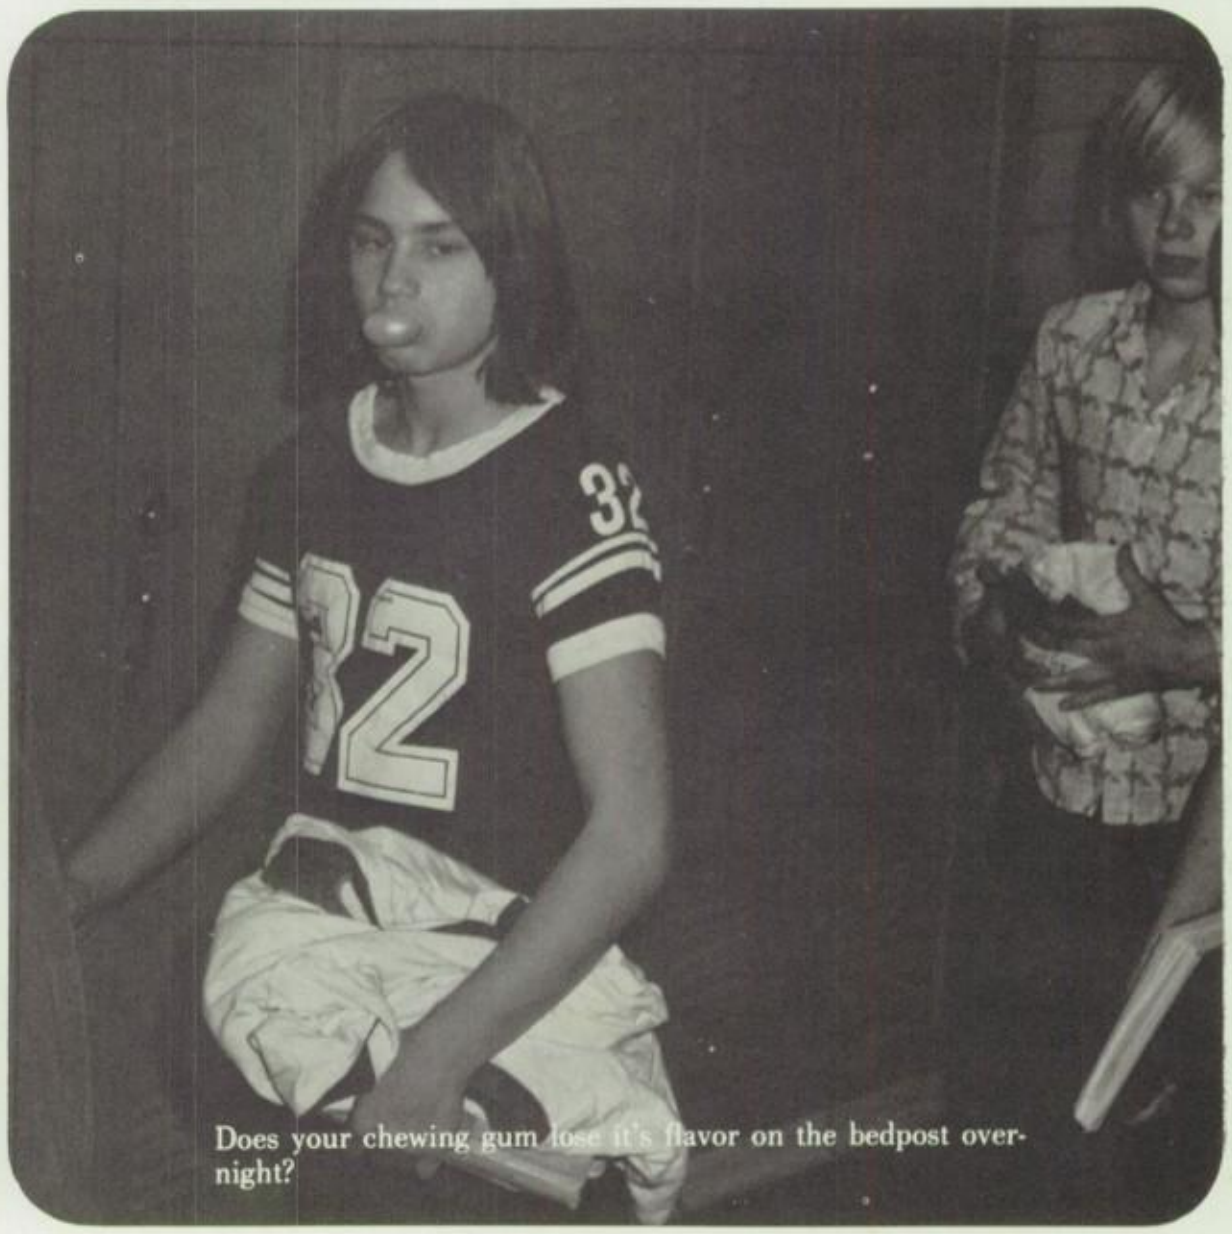
Many times you will experience things which you don't approve of. However, you must remember this does not mean you should change them. Cope with your problems to the best of your ability and you will go far.

Got ya, didn't think I'd get ya now did you.



Follow me, where I go.

Have you never been mellow.



Does your chewing gum lose it's flavor on the bedpost overnight?

You're so vain.

Even though this year has brought some hair-raising experiences and frustrations beyond belief, we salute the endurance and patience of Mrs. Clay and Mrs. Lewis. They have given of themselves to help type, search for lost pictures, and encourage us at critical moments. The yearbook is a group effort and couldn't have been completed without the help of Mr. Hendryx and his photographers and the never tiring services of Rembrandt Studios who continue to give us fine quality.
